Looking Back . . .

Well, here it is again, the end of another school year. Nothing's really changed. I've watched the same thing for years and years. The faces change but things seem to happen about the same every year.

Years ago when Nampa built the first high school, the students picked me for their mascot and named their athletic teams after me. I'm a part of the school and I've watched it grow through the years. The new campus seems like home to me now, although it was difficult to adjust to it after all the years at the old high school on Caldwell Boulevard. I remember when the high school classes were held in Kenwood. That was a long time ago, and things have changed a great deal since those days. Our new campus was first used in 1956, although it wasn't completely finished that year and the students were really crowded. Classes were held in every nook and cranny available, but we have plenty of room now. After the addition of the second classroom building, the Ag building, and the Gym, our campus has filled out to its present size. The students seem to take a great deal of pride in the new school. It's nothing really fancy, but it's worth being proud of.

I think I'll take a stroll around the campus and see what's going on. Maybe I'll look in on everyone in the Ad Building. Here in the Administration Building most of the work of running the school is carried on. Offices of the principal, counselors, Student Body Manager and Student Body President, are all here in the Ad Building. Here, also, are the lunchroom and library. I kind of feel sorry for all the kids in study hall. I'll bet they really envy me as I walk freely around. Every noon there is a mad rush, as the buildings burst open and their occupants pour out eager to eat lunch. It's not too safe for a stranger to be out in the open when the bell rings for one of the two lunch hours.

Classroom Building #1 is the giant of the campus. It has two floors devoted almost entirely to classrooms. Courses from Spanish to Homemaking are all held in this building. Most of the Senior and Junior courses are held in Classroom Building #1, while the Sophomores are the rulers in Classroom Building #2. Over in the Sophomore building are courses in Algebra, Biology, Drama and English.

The Little Theater, in the Music Building, is a high school and community center. Throughout the years it has served and will serve as a setting for concerts, plays and all types of public activities.

The Gym is another building that serves the public as well as the students. This is only the second year that it has been used, and everyone seems to take pride in it. The gym floor can be used for two complete basketball courts, or as one large court. Due to the efforts of the students last year, the school was able to place glass backboards in the Gym. The pull-out bleachers, which can be placed out of the way when not in use, will seat 3,000 people.

Well, the year is almost finished, and soon a new group of faces will fill the halls and corridors of Nampa High. But to the class that is leaving and to all those who will yet depart from the campus of this high school, I have this to say. Remember always that the high school is yours, but in another sense you also belong to it. Even as it has become a part of you, you have become a part of it. Your actions and your achievements have become embedded in the history of the school. As the years roll by, and you recall your experiences at Nampa High, remember the fun and the friends that you had there, for these things will be your treasures of tomorrow.

The Bulldog

Dedication

Overruling the order of Mr. Hodgson that a Nampa High Sage never be dedicated to the Sage advisor, we feel justified in breaking tradition by dedicating this, the 1959 Sage to a man most deserving of this honor, our Sage advisor, Mr. Robert Hodgson. The dedication action taken by the Sage staff, under the approval of Mr. Steck, is completely unknown to Mr. Hodgson.

The college education of Mr. Hodgson began at the C of I in Caldwell. California State College in Fresno also claimed a part of his college life. The first seven years of his teaching career were spent in Haily, Idaho. Bellview was also one of the towns in which Mr. Hodgson taught. In 1950 Mr. Hodgson joined Nampa High's teaching staff in the capacity of Sage advisor and English teacher.

English and writing occupy the main interests of Mr. Hodgson. He enjoys spending his summers in the mountains and forests of Oregon.

To a man dedicated to his work we give our grateful thanks and appreciation. To you, Mr. Hodgson, we offer our wishes for the best of all the good things in the future.

foreword of his book, "It is written by an amateur who went been written by an author who had had no real experience but who had done a fairly sizeable amount of research.

Marshall McClintock, while being a fairly good writer on the beginning phases of the subject, hasn't delved very deeply into model railroading and hasn't as yet become very well known as a writer. Maybe sometime he will become as well known as

Superintendent's Message

On behalf of the Board of Education, the patrons of the community and the Office of Administration, I wish to extend congratulations on your achievements during your career in the Nampa Public Schools.

You have achieved a goal of academic and social accomplishments that should help you in your future educational and vocational experiences. The ability to be successful in any field depends upon your intelligence, industry and co-operativeness.

Some of you will be leaders. Many of you will be followers. It is important to you as an individual to be a good follower as well as a good leader. In being a good follower, always choose a good leader, be alert, ask questions, and seek the truth. The world needs those who can follow wisely.

In accepting the challenge of the future, strive to be that leader in any situation in which you may find yourself. If leadership qualities are not yours, accept the role of a follower but do it as efficiently and with as much dignity as that of a leader. There is an important place in this community for you. The future of Nampa depends on our youth.

Harry C. Mills

Superintendent's Secretaries

Two busy members of the faculty are Miss Clarabell Casler, secretary to the board, and Mrs. Gladys Uzzel, secretary to Mr. Mills.

Miss Casler's duties are many. She not only pays the teachers and other employees but she also orders all supplies, keeps the books, and performs all the secretarial work for the school board.

Mrs. Uzzel's duties are equally important. She sends out Mr. Mills' correspondence, monthly reports on the activities of the school system, and helps him to discharge the routine duties of his office.

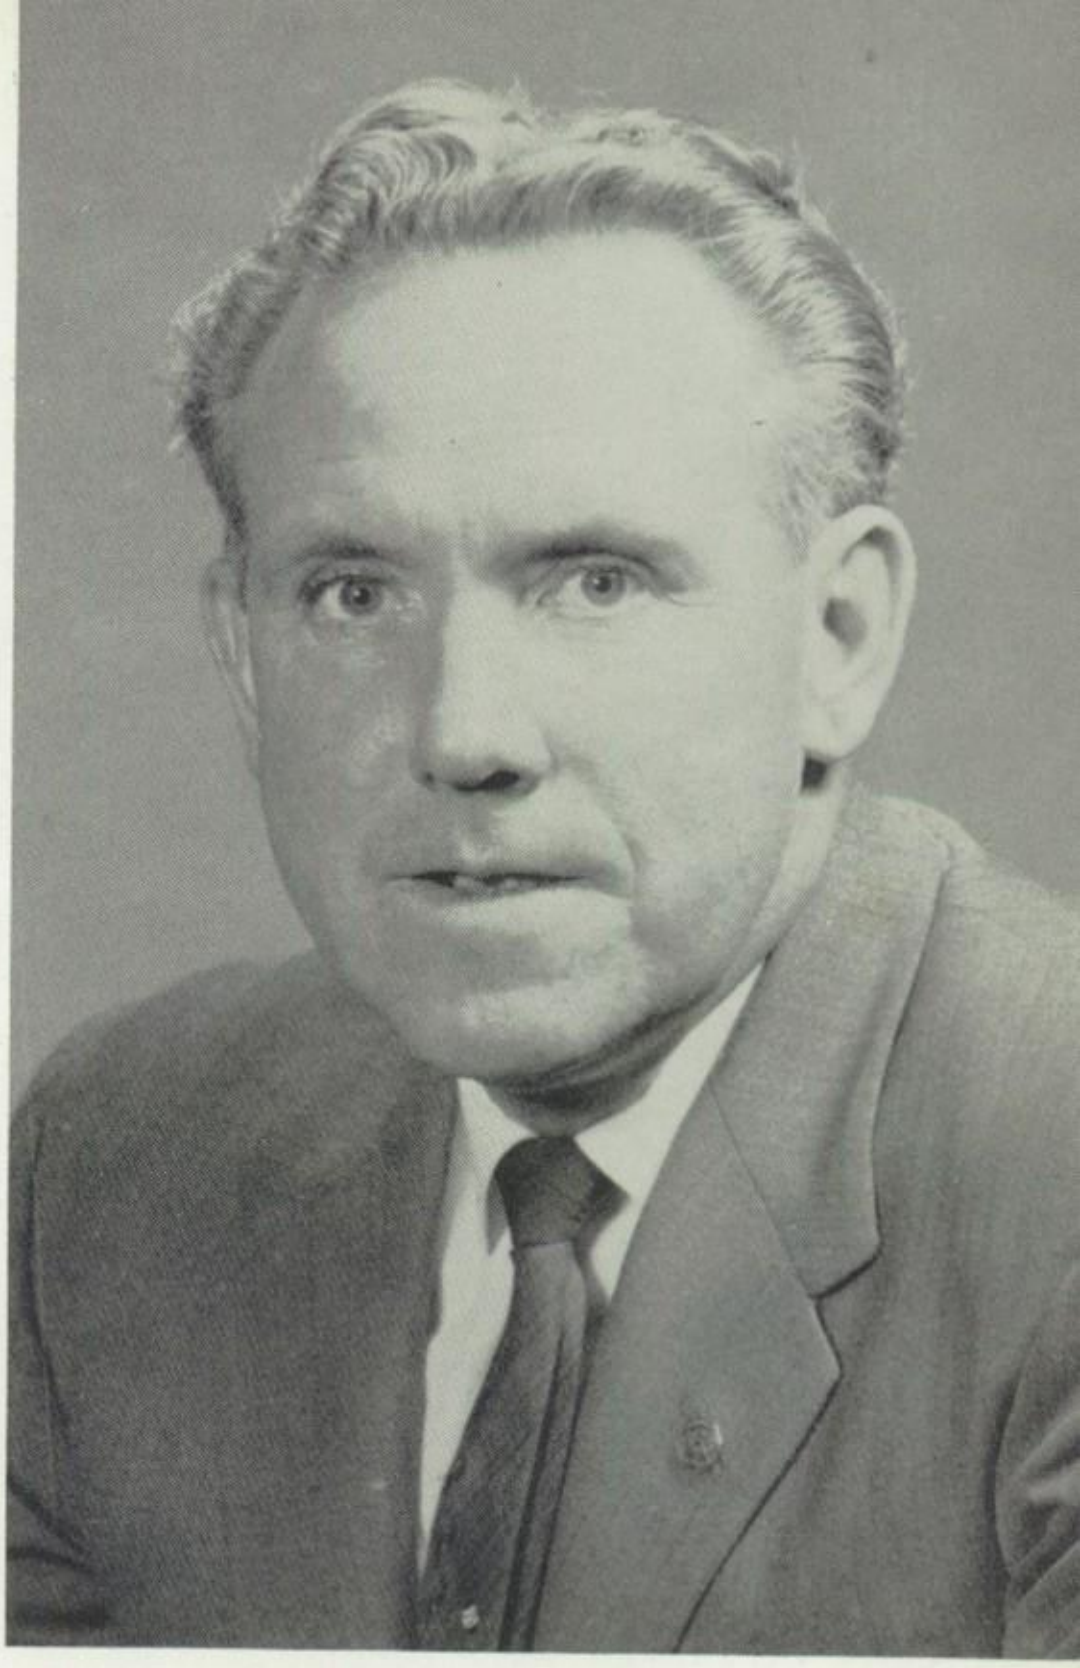
Principal's Message

The school year nineteen fifty-eight—fifty-nine has been an outstanding one. Each of you has given emphasis to your individual academic progress. We realize that knowledge must be coupled with a sense of humility and an appreciation of humanity and that each one of us has the responsibility of using the sum total of our experiences to express a creative individuality that will promise that the world of the future will be a better, more peaceful one.

All of us are encouraged to exemplify our own Nampa High Honor Code and are encouraged to do our part in accepting responsibility for our own actions and the actions of those who might infringe on our rights.

Congratulations, seniors, and best wishes to all members of the student body as you continue your search for knowledge in order that you may be the most effective citizen of your community, state, and nation.

Wesley Steck



Principal's Secretaries

Mrs. Roberta Showalter and Mrs. Leah Scott are two of the busiest and most important people on the campus.

Mrs. Showalter collects all fees, records all necessary information about the students, helps Mr. Steck with secretarial jobs, and also arranges the students' schedules at the beginning of the year.

Mrs. Scott's job is equally important. She passes out important information to the students and faculty, operates the duplicating machine, helps supervise the student monitors, and is in charge of student attendance.

Patiently and completely, Mrs. Mercer explains the intricacies of a particularly rough problem to her 5th period geometry group. "No, Noreen, A2 + B2 doesn't necessarily equal C2."

Mrs. Mowery, right, pauses in her second period class after answering Dale Russel's question, "Is the progressive form of the subjunctive mood ever used when a cognate object follows an infinitive whose subject lacks a definite antecedent?" Oh, sure, we all know what that is.

Surprise! Members of Mr. Brandt's 6th period comprehensive chemistry class show their appreciation by acknowledging Mr. Brandt's birthday. Congratulations!

Custodians and Cooks

Custodians

Rub-a-dub-dub, we have four panitors in our school. They rub and they scrub 'til things look real cool. George Beer, Leonard Forrey, Alice Tiser and Harold Jackson are these four ambitious senior high school janitors. Mr. Beer works chiefly in classroom buildings 1 and 2 while Mr. Forrey is the custodian of the gym. Mr. Jackson and Mrs. Tiser may be seen anywhere at anytime with a broom and a dust pan, trying to keep the grounds and buildings presentable.

Cooks

"Hunger pangs will soon be soothed," the bell says to the students each noon. Then comes the dash to the lunchroom and food. Our lunches have been prepared by our six hard-working cooks: Eloise McMillin; Margaret Schvaneveldt; Ann Pollock, head cook; Flora Mae Orr; Loretta McMillin; and Mildred Skinner. Their jobs take the better part of each day, five days a week.

To the cooks, the Sage extends a big THANKS for a job well done.

Student Body Officers

Inez Gabica

Student Body Officers

Student body officers for the past year were Elias Alvarado, President; Buzz McMillan, Vice President; and Inez Gabica, Secretary. Each was elected by the student body for leadership ability. They presided at student council meetings and have served on several special committees.

As a result of their efforts to promote sportsmanship and the honor code, the student body officers headed a committee to organize the Associated Men and Women Students' clubs at Nampa High School.

Elias was chairman of a committee to write a constitution for the District Student Council of which he was elected President. Nampa High's student body officers have also worked with officers from schools throughout the state to organize a state student council.

The three classes of Nampa High were represented on the student council this year by Bruce Garrison, Sophomore Class President; Bill Cunningham, Junior Class President; and Jim Wecker, Senior Class President. It was the duty of these three to keep the student body united and in high spirits.

Linda Dawson, with the help of Associate Editor Jim Metcalf, edited the bi-weekly school paper, the Growl, an up-to-date paper relating the happenings of Nampa High.

Linda Jacobsen was editor of the school yearbook, the Sage. She organized the annual staff into a group that has published a book holding many treasured memories of the school year.

Senior Class

Now that spring is here, and we, the graduating class of '59, are standing on the threshold of opportunity we can barely visualize that this is the final scene of a seemingly short but wonderful experience. We have prepared long and hard for our journey into the future. Busy — yes everyone of us in the class of '59 has been busy from the beginning to make our class the most successful in Nampa High history. Our beginning was a bit dubious as we wandered around our new campus-type school. To us upstairs was downstairs, and teachers seemed to never be in the right rooms or else the wrong rooms were associated with the right teachers. We never could figure out why biology didn't come before lunch. At times we faltered, but spring brought the realization that we had weathered the storm and were ready for a step up the social ladder to Juniors. As Juniors we moved into our own. We were ready to throw off the shackles that bound us. Bursting forth we won noise rallies with such a fervor that the other classes were set aside by our rush. We bombarded clubs and school activities as we began to prove our worthiness of social distinction. We let our class motto, "Build your character on the firm foundation of truth" guide us through trials and tribulations. Our class project, the wishing well, was destroyed by vandalism just before its completion. Our Senior Recognition Day was highlighted by a scene of festive fun and was brightened up with our class colors, Flamingo and Silver, and our class flower, the Pink Carnation. Three years have passed by swiftly. From that first beginning of the first grade we rose until we were able to assume our position and responsibilities as senior high school students. We are justly proud of our achievements in high school. Much of the credit can be laid at the feet of our capable leaders, past and present. Officers during our Sophomore year were: Elias Alvarado, Buzz McMillan, and Melissa Egbert; Junior year: Elias Alvarado, Buzz McMillan, and Christine Lynch; and during our Senior year the officers were: James Wecker, President; Jerry Purcell, Vice President, and Christine Lynch, Secretary. Although we shall leave a little saddened because of the joyful and wisening experiences we have had, we shall say good-bye to our friends, our teachers, and our alma mater. With the realization that what we have learned, what we have accomplished, and what we know will always be with us we can venture forth with a sense of security, belonging, and social maturity.

Senior Features

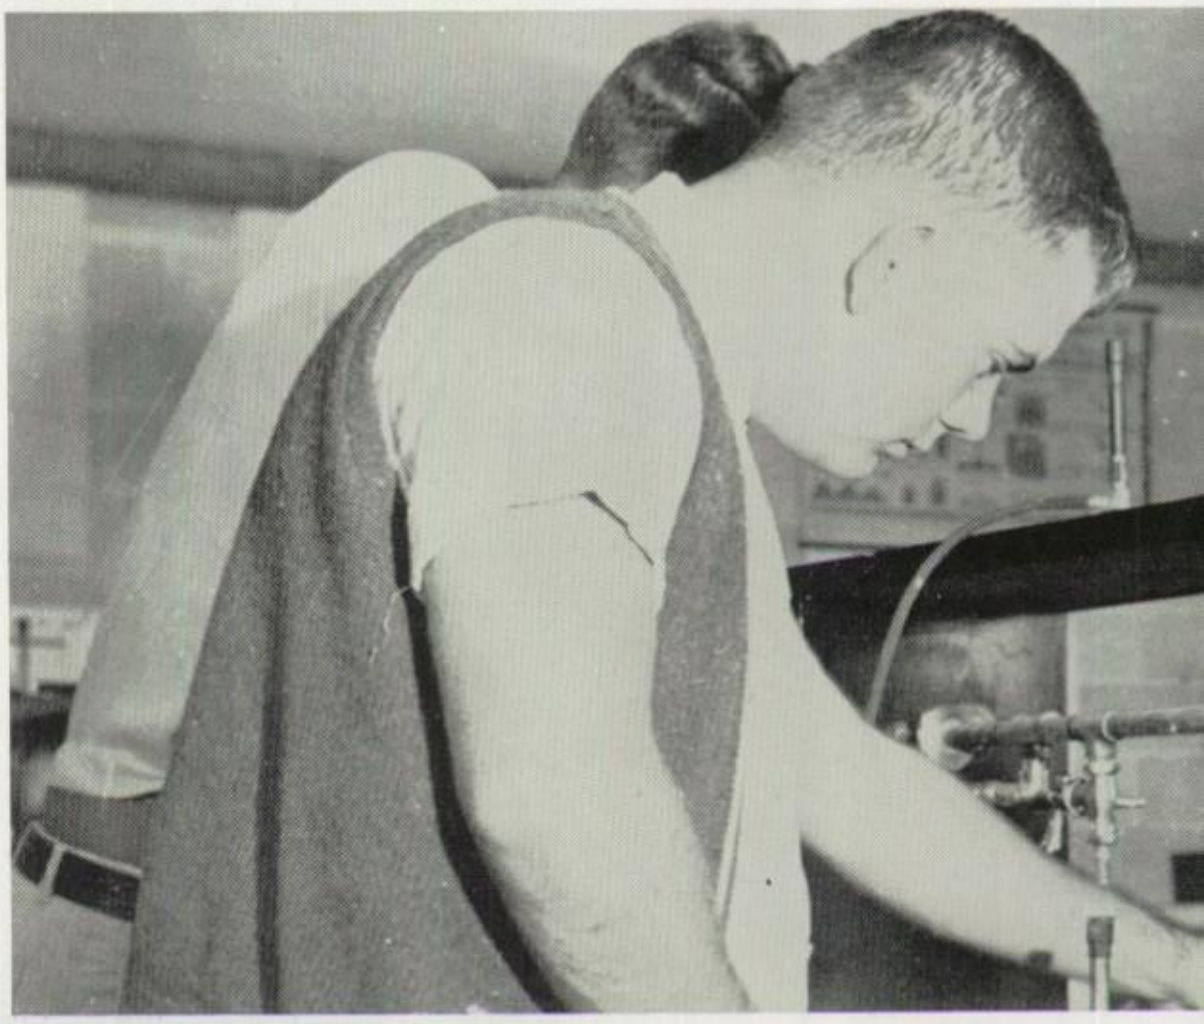
"If you put this 5 by 3, on page 27, it will balance with 2½ by 4, on page 26." So directs Linda Jacobsen as she confers with Marlene Speilman and Sandee Ford on Sage Layout.

"Terry, you poor overworked Senior, I hope you realize you are filling the cup upside down." Terry Nordstrom is one of the D.E.C.A. members who serves you every noon in the Kennel. Keep it up D.E.C.A., but remember the cups, huh?

Wipe those silly grins off your faces and get to work! Who do you think you are anyway — editors and business managers of summit? You're r i g h t. That's what they are. Barbara Harrison and Don Johnson are Co-Editors of Summit and Ron Dike is Business Manager. Missing from the picture is Ron Hoppins the other Business Manager.

"This is the way it should really be done," explains Ray Ward. Mr. Quinley smiles, as if to say, "You could be right." But by the looks on the faces of Ivan Uzzel and Leighton Benjamin, there could be a slight doubt in their minds.

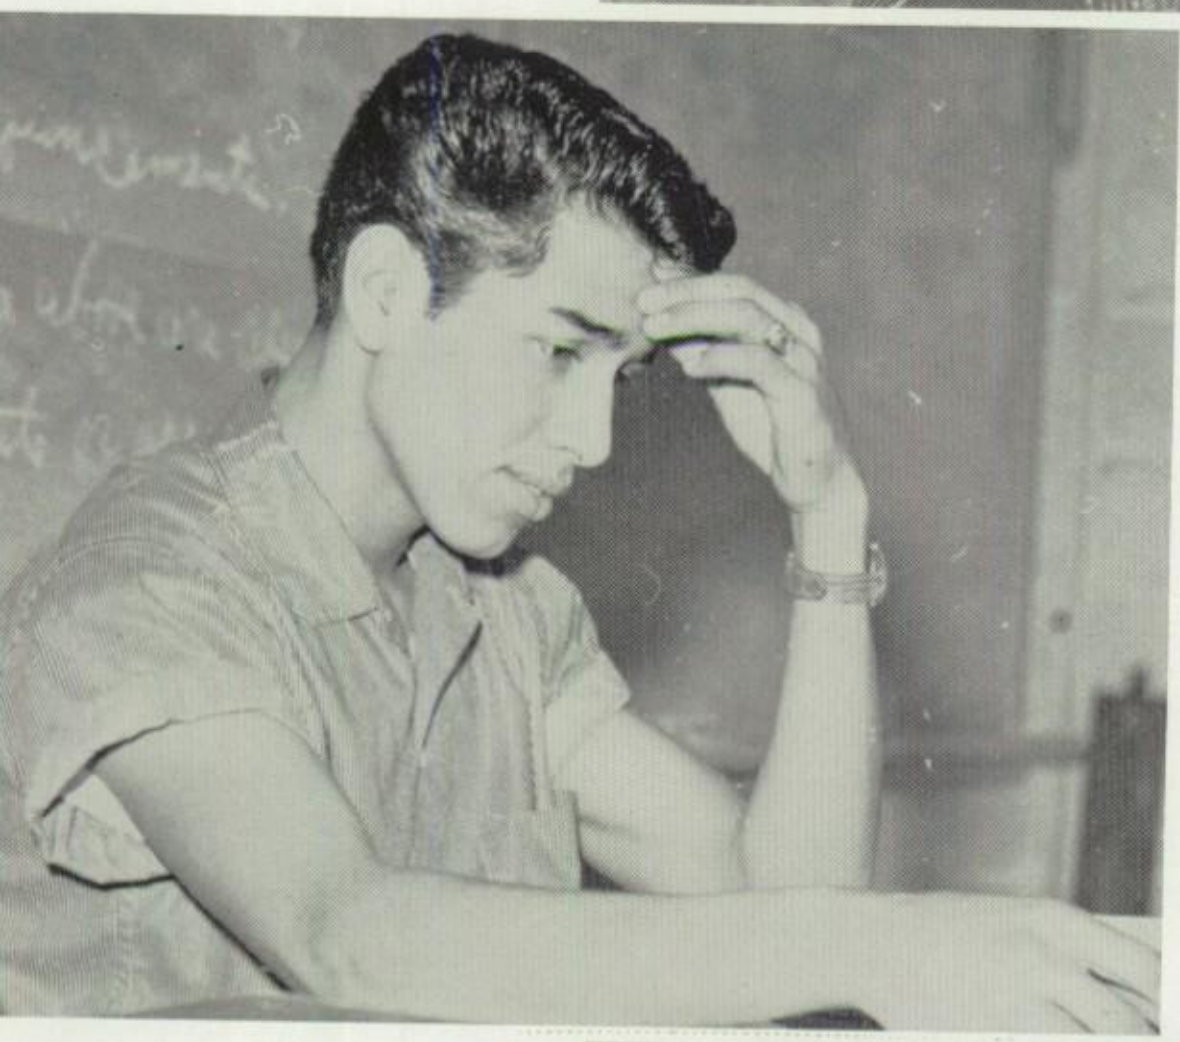
Student Body President Elian Alverado is busily presiding over the Student Council Meeting in the lunch room during first period. Looking on are Inez Gabica, Student Body Secretary and Buzz McMillin, Student Body Vice President.



Mr. Brandt's first period chemistry class is characterized by the fierce tarten-like determination shown here by Bill Potter, in his experiment: How clean is a really clean glass stirring rod?

My! Don't they look studious! This is a typical picture of Mrs. Baker's Comprehensive English class, 2nd period. Everybody is busy listening to the assignment all except Lloyd Gould. Lloyd, don't you know it isn't polite to read funny books when someone is talking. Mrs. Baker, you better get after him.

"Aww—come on, Mrs. Bacon, have a heart. I slaved for hours on this. Maybe a three—huh?" Does this sound familiar, Mrs. Bacon? But then you can't blame Richard Morris for trying to get a passing grade.



"Problems, problems" or so goes the song. President Elias has more than a few problems running well organized Student Council meeting or solving physics problems like: E=1+1—1+2.

"And therefore we see that the irrelevant information supplied by the affirmative is not irrelevant, but is quite pertinate." Steady, Melissa, this is only a practice debate, and we're all among friends.

In the picture above Louise Francis and Dorothy Peltzer are putting the finishing touches on their projects for the six weeks in Homemaking.

Below the machine shop boys have just completed, for the gym, the sign which was presented to the school by the class of 1959. Showing the sign are Bill Mansur, David Ward, Ivan Uzzel, and Leighton Benjamin.

Junior Class

For the class of '60 the Junior year exists only in memory: Memories of the dates, games, home work, final exams, and, of course, the Junior-Senior Prom.

Headed by Marolane Yellen, the Prom was the biggest class event of the year. This dance was the result of much work by many committees headed by: Decorations, Karen Allen; Programs and Invitations, Donna Fletcher; Clean-Up, Leland Benner; Publicity, Eugenie Newton; Photography and Lighting, Jerry Simonsen; Chaperones, Jerilyn Burlingame; Refreshments, Peggy Roper; and Music and Floor Show, Bonnie Tiegs.

Leading the class of '60 were Bill Cunningham, President; LaVonne Tiegs, Vice President; Bob Rogers, Secretary; Kay Masingill, Yell Queen; and Judy Masingill, Yell Duchess. Mrs. Helen York served as faculty advisor.

The Upward Climb, under the supervision of Co-Editors Vickie Luekenga and Janis Chase, and Co-Business Managers Donna Fletcher and Arnold Wallace, has completed its second year providing a literary outlet for members of the Junior Class.

Selected as the class motto was "Look for the silver lining," the class colors were pink, green, and silver; and the class flower was the carnation.

Ahead looms the final year, but behind are many experiences and memories that will be long cherished by the class of 1960.

Books in, opposed to books out. Oh well they balance this morning. Sula Moore, one of the student librarians, is balancing the book records for another day.

"Boy what a problem." Ron Sturdivant and Jeff Tollifson attempt to find the differential of the difference of the negative cuberoot of the mass of ball A as opposed to ball B in physics.—"And don't ask me which is ball A."

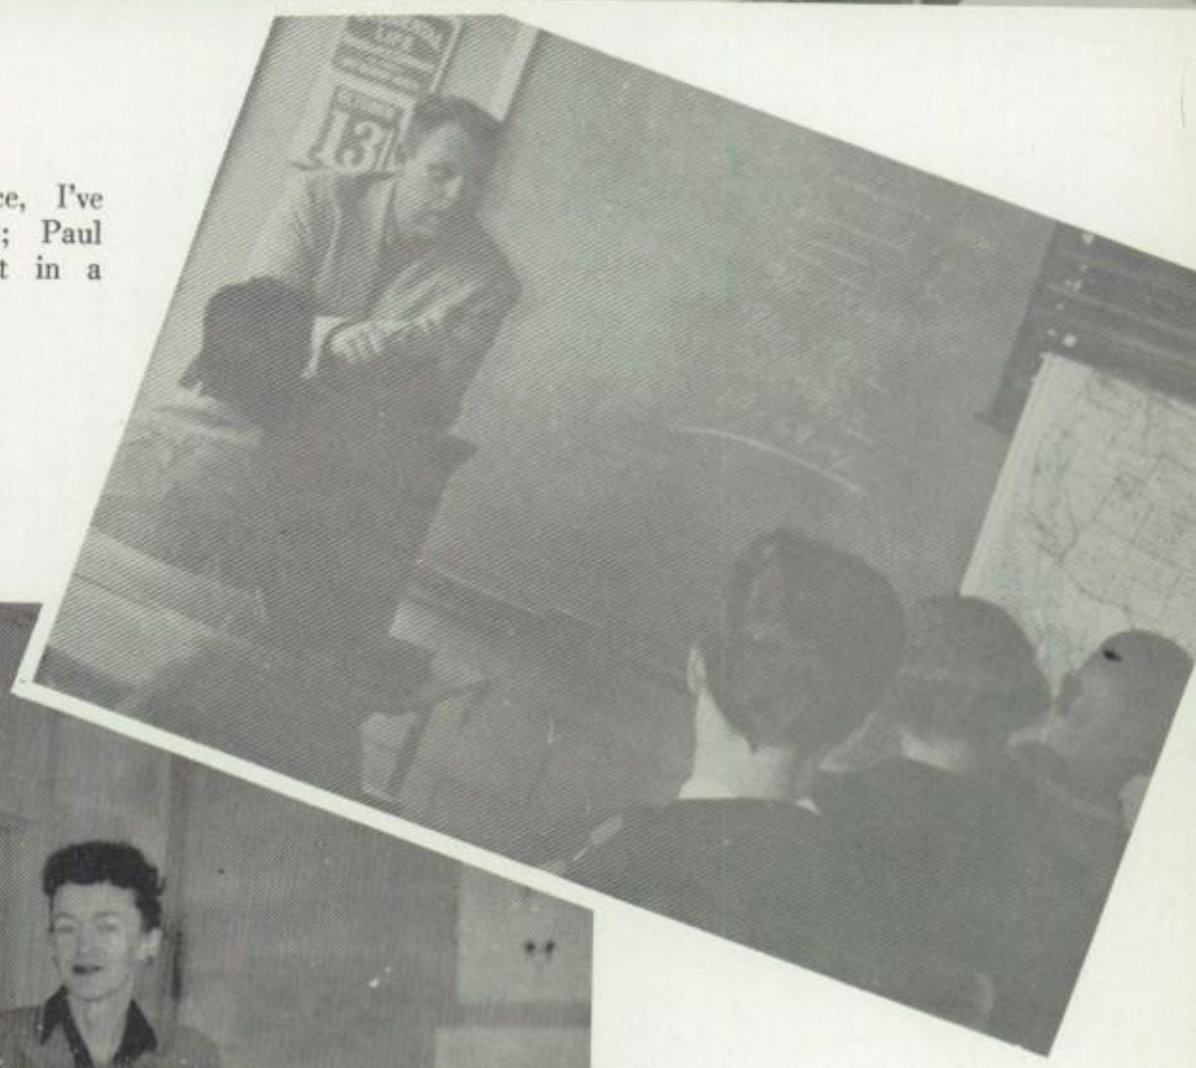
"Quid habet, Cornelius?" Here is a first year Latin class studying the language of the ancient Romans. Their able instructor, of course, is Miss Haglin, Nampa High's French and Latin teacher.

Features

Gerri and Linda, are you studying? The new method of study is to concentrate through the covers and look straight ahead.

Digging out some of the finer points of art technique is illustrated by Miss Krebeil and Jeanne Prachyl who are studying and analyzing their art work. Art classes are one of the many electives offered to students at Nampa High School.

"If I've told you once, I've told you a dozen times; Paul Revere did not drag out in a M. G. roadster."

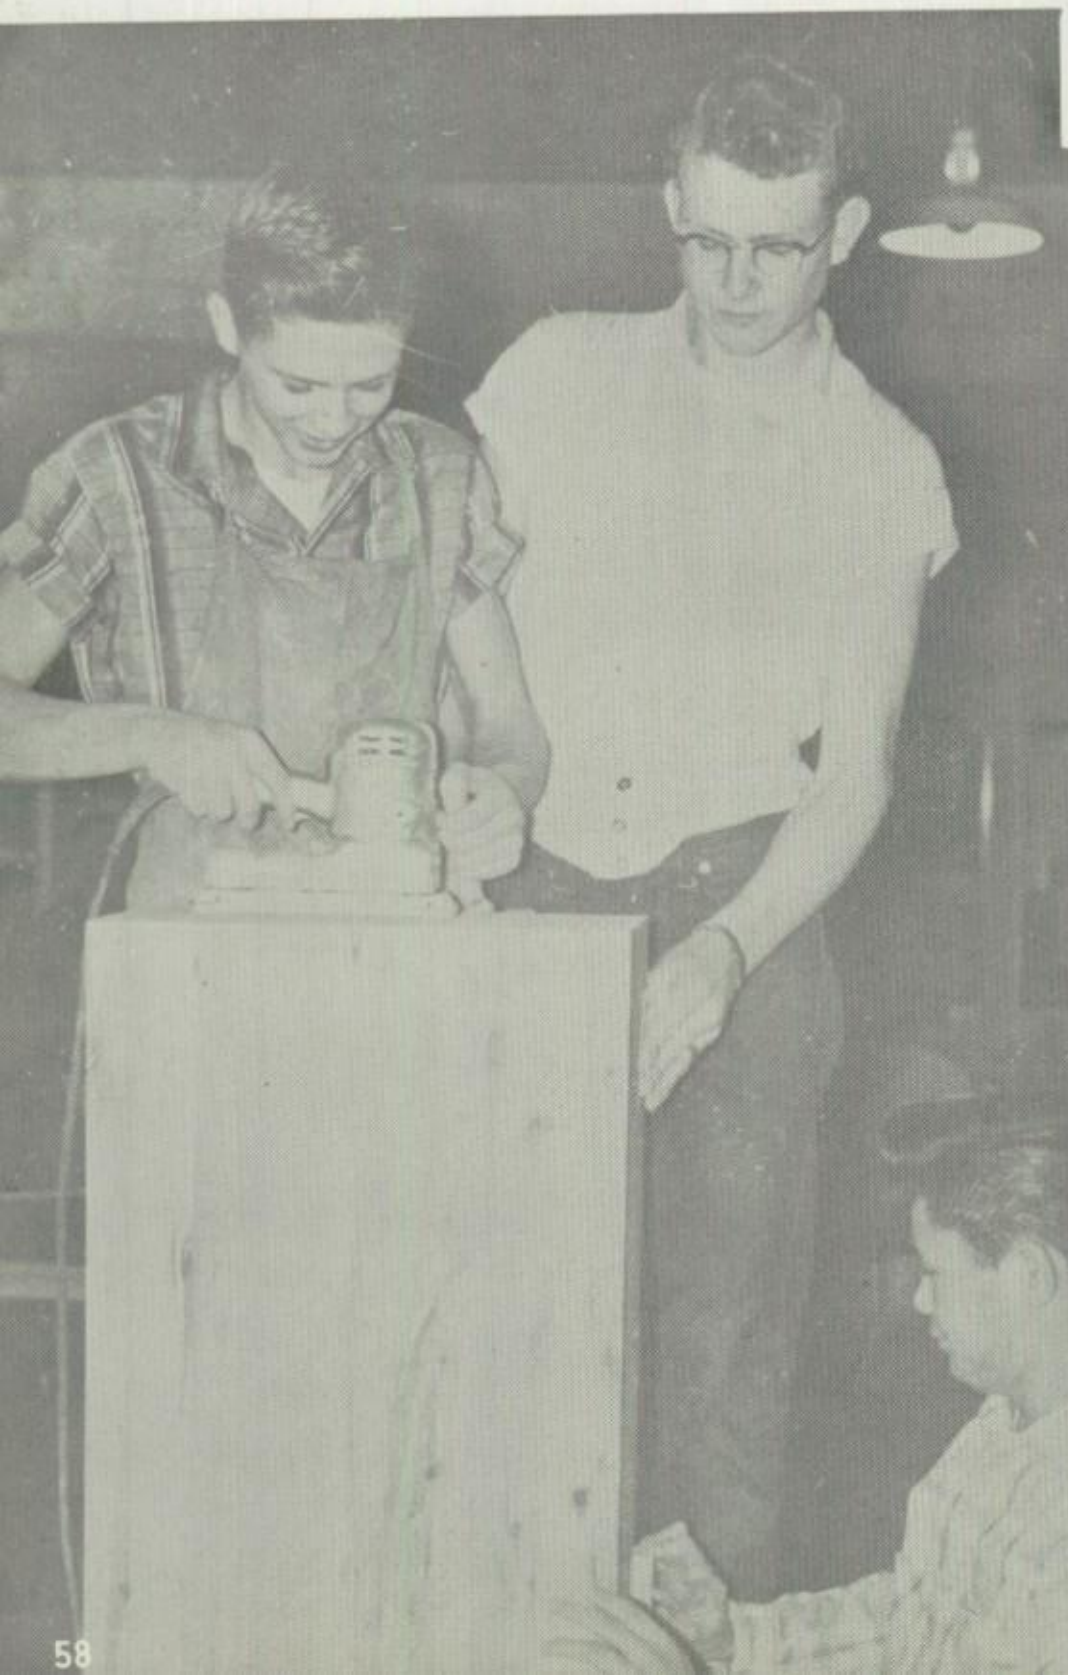


New teacher? Not hardly. Dean Ashcroft is just giving an oral report in one of Mrs. Mowery's English classes. From the look on Dean's face and the attentive audience, it must be a humorous report.

Is this REALLY Jimmy Burrows and Carl Hogge — studying? All kidding aside, we know the boys in architectural drawing do their best at all times.

Eyes on your copy is a familiar saying in a typing class. Here it looks like Gwynn Hollinger is following the order — but, look who is the spectator in this scene.

"You reckon we'll ever get this sanded down to a two-by-four?" Shown here busily working in Mr. Rupert's woodshop class are Rondy Bentley, Kenny Bowman, and Dick Kimura.



Oh, what did you find, Mrs. Roth, what did you find? Is it a comic book in an Evangeline book? Tut, tut, Dale.

Sophomore Class

One more green year has passed for another green class. After the first few weeks of confusion, this year's "green" sophomores dug in and have taken an active part in student affairs. The class officers were Bruce Garrison, President; Stanley Tarter, Vice President; and Kathy Hostetler, Secretary. Faculty advisor was Carlyle Dean.

The cheerleaders, Caryn Snyder, Barbara Dick, Julie Ann Harper, and Connie Luekenga, have done a fine job in getting the Sophomores out to support their teams. We were all proud when the sophomore football team won the Tri-City League Championship Trophy.

Green Years editor was Beverly Labrum and Business Manager was Ruth Adams. They and their staff worked hard to publish the book under the supervision of their advisor Miss Ardis Minna.

Sophomore Features

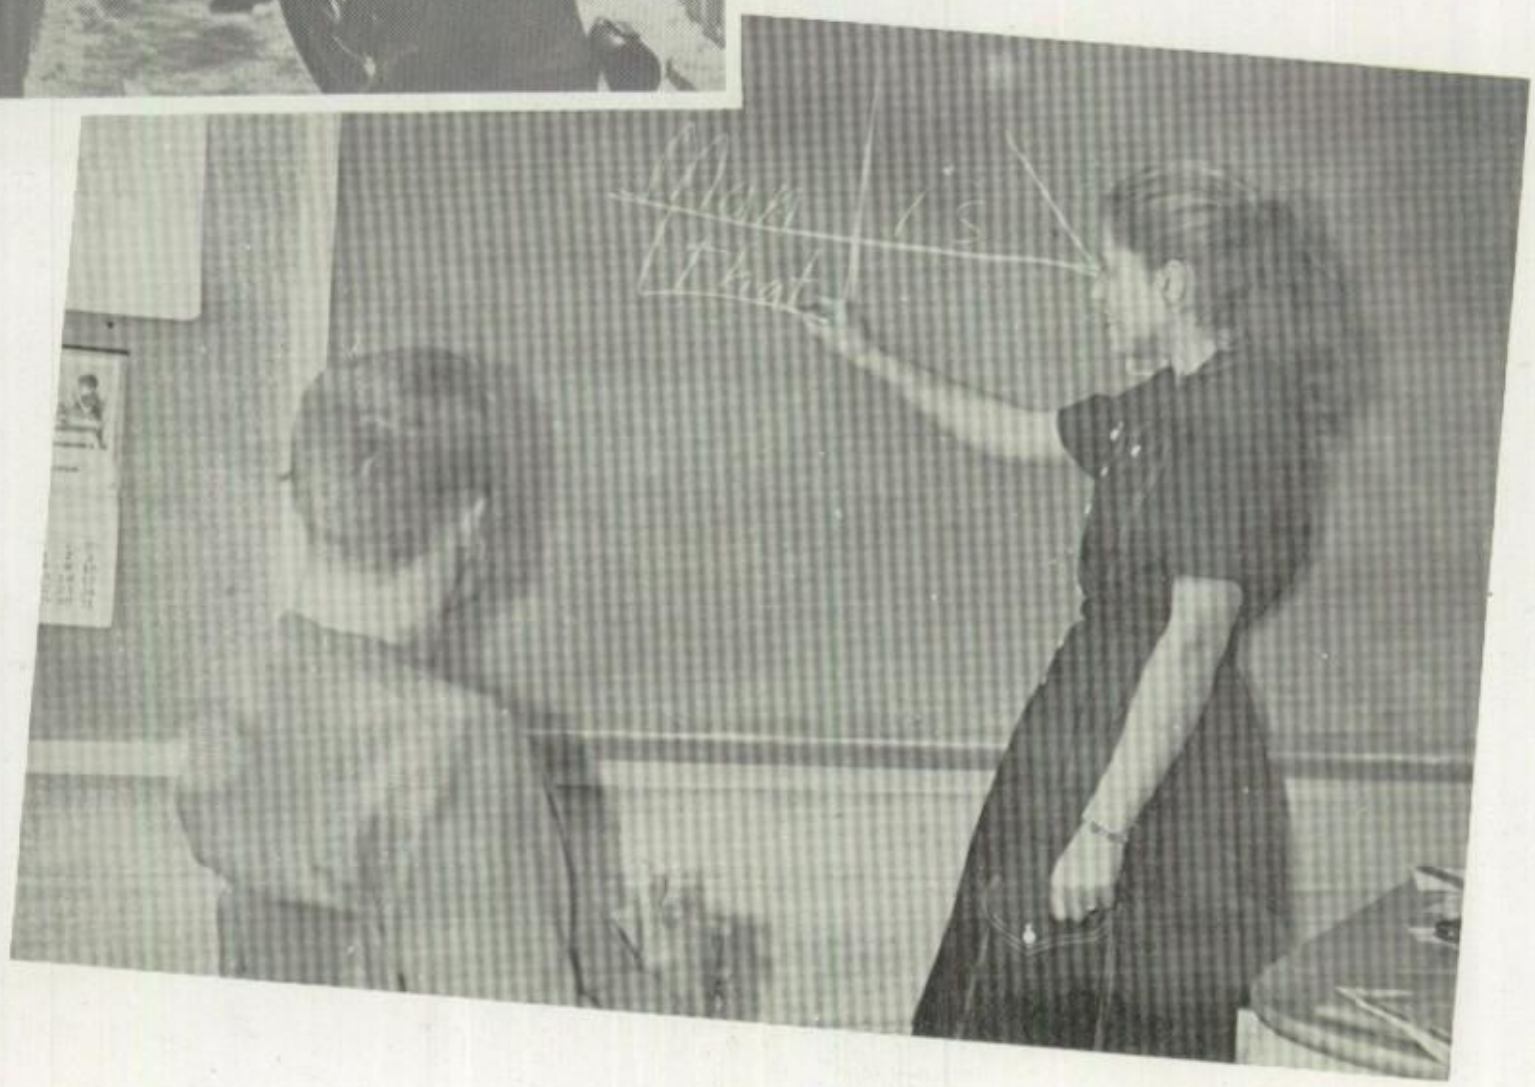
By constructing polygons and learning some of the basic fundamentals of geometry, Buzz King is paving his way to the future in Mr. Keil's geometry class.

Student teacher Leslie Tindall from NNC and Judy Johnson of Mr. Kennedy's first period biology class are anxiously waiting to see if this crayfish has mastered the art of swimming.

"Line x extended through point p until it meets y," explains Mr. McNichols, as Jim Furshiro tries to make it look like what's in the book.

With his collar high and the "enemy" (Germain Tarrant) close behind, Loren Benner heads for cover. Scores of students were engaged in snow ball fights on the football field after the first real snow of the year provided ready ammunition.

Now kids — is that the way to do your English? Daryl Sallaz seems to be in some doubt as to the proper procedure, Lee Dodson has figured it out by simply diagraming on the blackboard.



General Features

The student body officers, Elias, Inez, and Buzz, pictured immediately below, look on while Mr. Steck addresses the council on student behavior. The student council is the governing body on the campus. It discusses matters affecting the entire student body and passes on acceptable practice.

"Will the student council come to order, so we can adjourn?" Pictured at the bottom of the page is the second council meeting of the year held in the latter part of September.

Immediately below is the Service Club initiation held in the lunchroom, November 17. From the looks of things the "Freedom Shrine" is really exhibiting its power. Looks like fun, no?

"With egg on their faces and boots on their feet, they've gone through the paces; don't they look neat?" Mrs. Cruse, bottom of the page, seems to be pleased with the new Service Club members. The initiation was held in the lunchroom November 17.

Karen Jacobsen and Linda Bean have just finished changing the display in the show case. This week the library is featuring books of all kinds.

The librarians of Nampa High are busy little gals. They distribute library notices for overdue books, put up the bulletin boards and campus news, set up display cases in the lobby of the administration building, and, of course, check out books. Indeed, they learn by doing.

Brenda Bruck, student librarian, is sitting at the table diligently doing her geometry against a backdrop of some very interesting magazines. How can she stand it?

"Jingle bells, jingle bells . . ." A spontaneous glee club composed of Marillyn Killian, Shirley Jamison, Karen Allen, and Betty Hatch with Mrs. Bacon at the piano sing Christmas Carols during the first lunch hour. Bobby Nielson observes all quietly.

"Don't undress me here! came the cry of Eugene Furiama, a woe-begone sophomore during the "mug-shooting" for the Sage. Linda Jacobsen, editor of the Sage, assures Jim it's a perfect fit.

"Now boys, don't look at me in that tone of voice! I'm just a shutter bug who wants your picture." The football field once again became active last January as snow fiend plotted against snow fiend.

Variety

Darrel Franke and the Clemens' brothers take part in "Blue Hawaii" by playing "Cocoanut Grove" on their guitars. One of the Clemens' brothers is not pictured.

The Thespian Variety Show, one of the highlights of the year, is produced annually by Mrs. Reid's play production class. The Variety Show for 1959 was held on Feb. 19, 20, 21 and because of complete sell-outs on each night it was again cast on February 23.

Elinor Cooke, mistress of ceremonies, and Pam Burchard made sure there was never a dull moment during the Thespian Variety Show.

"I want to be evil" says Chris Lynch (pictured at the left) as she pantomimes Eartha Kitts' record "I Want To Be Evil."

Show

Vickie Luekenga, Marilyn Killian, and Connie Luekenga, dressed in sailor suits, added a nautical air to the Variety Show.

Norma Dennis took her part in the Variety Show by doing a twirling routine with lighted batons.

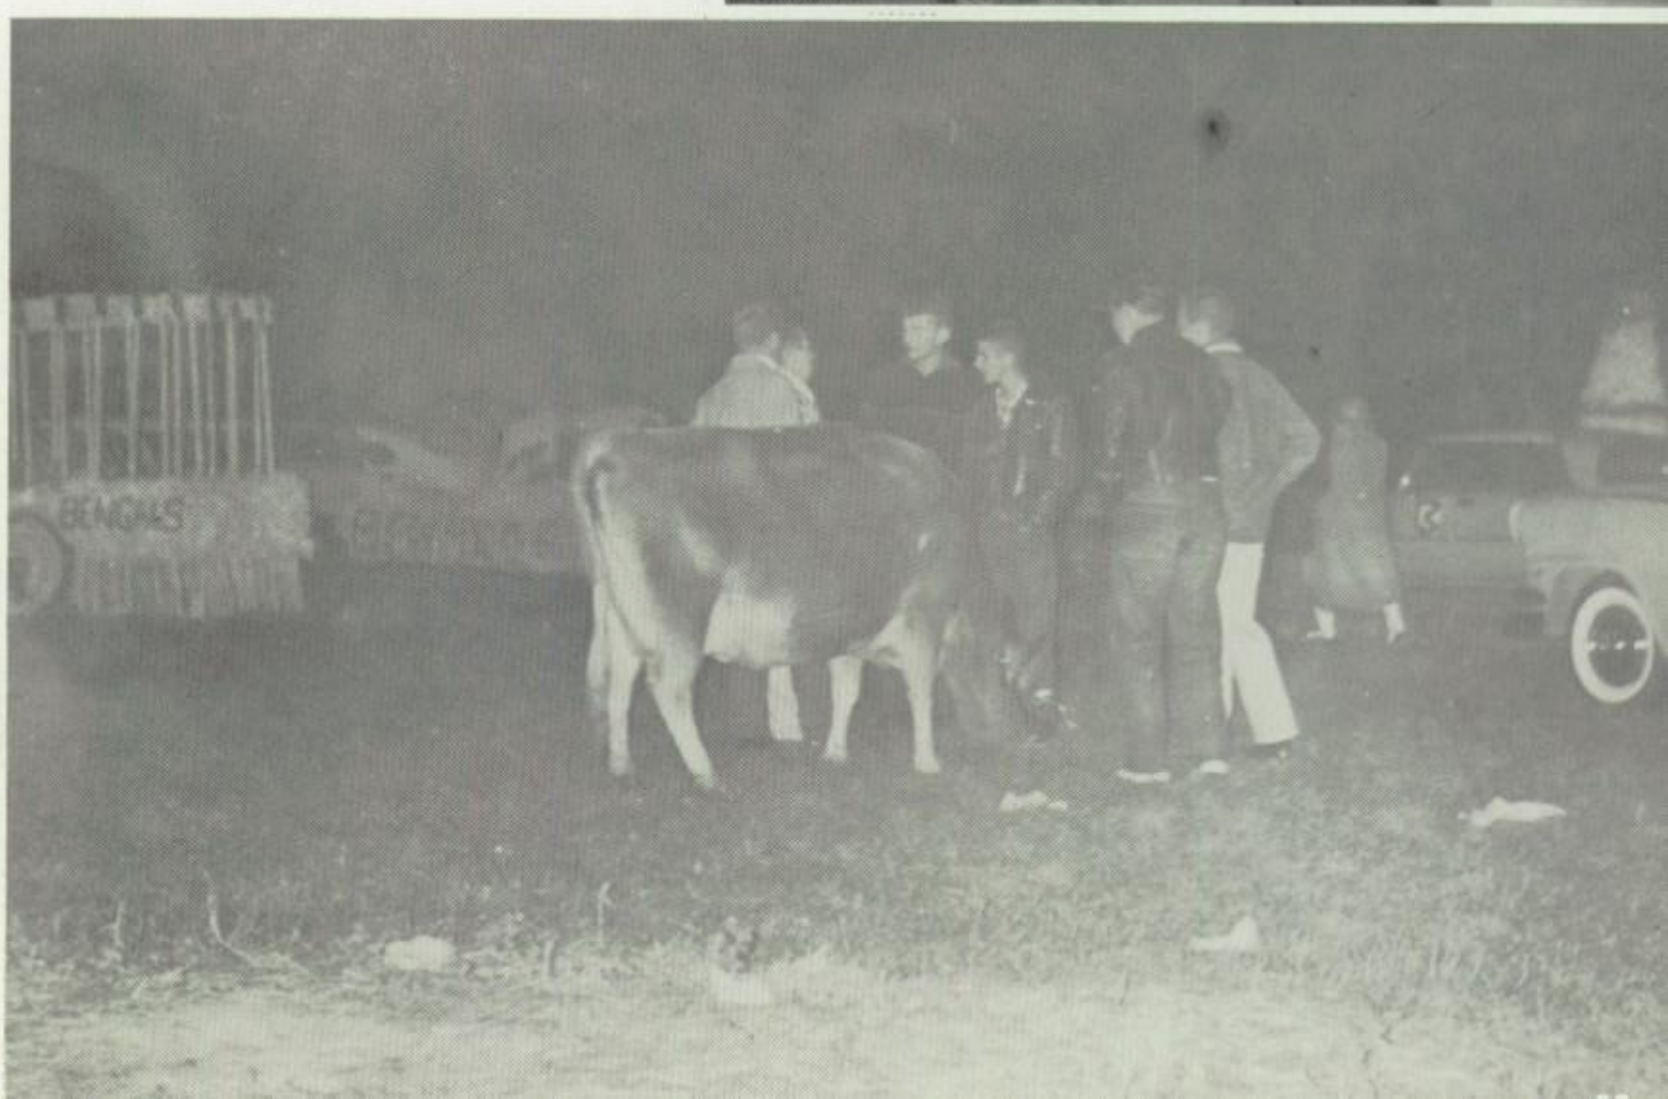
Against the background of Diamond Head, a beach party is in progress. Everyone seems to be dreaming except Cookie. At least she's on the ball.

John Runkle, general chairman and disc jockey, of Teen Times is shown here in the KFXD control room. Teen Times is Nampa High's own radio program held between 4:00 and 5:00 on Saturday afternoons. John spins records, gives the high school news and interviews guest speakers such as Mayor Leupp, Mr. Mills, and Mr. Steck. This is the fourth year for Teen Times with Jim Hilliard being its first chairman and disc jockey. Mrs. Reid is Teen Times advisor.

Fun, for teachers and students was at hand when Miss Kononen, Mr. Lewis, Mrs. Mowery, Mr. Grove, and Mr. Robertson were jokingly caught as a line of suckers in the stunt day assembly held February 5, in the P.E. Building.

"Clancy lowered the boom," in a real Irish theme as the Thespians present their skit at the stunt show, sponsored by the debate club on February 5. This was just one among many excellent skits we all enjoyed that afternoon.

"Get me out of here," came the helpless shriek of Anita Arana as Charles Tyler tries desperately to stuff her in the trash can. Occasion? Nothing in particular—just fooling around.



"Hey, Man! dig that crazy beefsteak on the hoof! At homecoming yet!" The Ag boys are preparing a real live float.

The big moment has arrived! This was the crowning of the Alumni Queen during the half time activities of the Nampa-Borah game February 13. The honored Queen, Miss Annie Laurie Bird, was presented with a bouquet of roses after she was escorted onto the floor by Barbara Harrison and Maralane Yellen. Miss Bird, a former teacher at Nampa High devoted 35 years of her teaching career to Nampa schools. Miss Bird was honored as Alumni Queen after an inspiring pep talk given at the pep assembly February 6.

"Did Grandma really look like that?" asked little George, as Linda Pfieffe, Carol Rau, Earldean Grant, and Donna Fletcher modeled styles of the past at the Spiz Style Show.

Maralane Yellen and Bonnie Tiegs perform during intermission at the Sweetheart Ball. We give them a "tip" and "hatlo" for their routine.

Linda Pfeiffer is presenting the Sage Queen, Gail Nihart with a bouquet of roses at the annual Sage dance held October 4 in the NHS gym, while the King, Terry Nordstrom looks on.

At the February meeting for Quill and Scroll, the club discussed pins available to students of journalism. Here, Linda Dawson, president, points out various types.

Sweetheart King, Mike Thompson, and Queen, Carol Lee Fobes stand before the huge heart which decorated the stage at the dance which was held on February 7 in Lincoln Gym, right after the Twin Falls-Nampa game.

A blond, a brunette, and a redhead! With three charmers such as these to choose from, the NHS student body was hard put to it to choose a homecoming queen last October 10. These three are just a few of the gals chosen to vie for the homecoming crown. Pictured are Inez Gabica, homecoming queen, Martina Gerritsen and Linda Pffeiffer, attendants. Inez was crowned at the homecoming dance held October 10 in the Lincoln Gym.

The Spizettes are shown here drilling at one of the pep assemblies. These girls, under the advisorship of Miss Mina, performed at our basketball games during half-times. On February 17 the Spizettes traveled to Emmett where they performed at half-time at the Emmet-Nampa game.

After coming back from their crayfish excursion, early last January, Mr. Cruse's comprehensive biology class displayed a few exhibits for the Sage camera.

Dean Lewis

Head Mentor

Dean Lewis, Nampa's head mentor, led Nampa to a third place in the newly formed Southern Idaho conference, which has been rated as one of the toughest High School leagues in the country.

Dean started his college education at Albion Normal. After two years, he enrolled at the U. of I., where he was a standout in athletics his last two years.

In college, Dean was Senior Football captain and on the basketball squad. It was in track that Dean shone the brightest, as he set inter-mountain and regional shot-put records and received the Dingle Trophy as the University's outstanding trackman.

Somehow Dean worked into his schedule 31 months, from March '43 to October '45, in the Pacific Theater.

Around school Dean coaches football and track, and teaches health and P.E.

This will be Dean's last year as Nampa's head coach. He has moved into the newly formed office of P.E. co-ordinator for the Nampa School System.

Line Coach

One of the more jolly type persons on campus is Roy Robertson, who has these past two years moved up to the Nampa varsity squad to take over the job of head line coach.

Fitting into his new assignment comes easy to Roy as he had taught basically the same fundamentals in grade school and in high school, when he was Sophomore and Junior Varsity coach.

Roy's future possibilities became quite apparent when he was picked from Payette's squad to be on the All-Star Football Team of 1947.

From sports in Payette Roy ventured on to Albion Normal for his first two years of formal education. Roy then went to C. of I. where he received his sheepskin.

If it isn't drills on the gridiron it's books and exams for Roy as he has five periods of history every day. One of Roy's favorite expressions is, "If that is the only thing we do, it will be done right."

Great Falls Blanks Nampa 12-0

After a grueling 16 hour bus trip to Great Falls on Sept. 5, the Bulldogs were set aside by Montana's '57 and '58 State Champions, Great Falls. The game was a hard fought contest and the Bison Crew was undoubtedly the best team the Bulldogs faced all season.

Nampa's ground offense was generally stymied except for two long punt returns by Ron Robertson, that were nullified by penalties.

The Bulldog line was exceptionally spirited and backs Loren Stratton and Roger Nelson did their alma mater proud.

The Jamboree

As members of the newly formed Southern Idaho Conference, the Nampa, Borah, and Caldwell High Schools held their first football jamboree Sept. 19. The jamboree included a three-half game with each team participating in two halves. Caldwell and Borah opposed each other in the first half; Borah met Nampa in the second half; and the third half brought Nampa against Caldwell.

Caldwell won the hotly contested first half with a slim margin of 7-6. In the second half Nampa tidily defeated Borah 18-6. The first quarter of this match was fairly even. Nampa's first touchdown was by Roger Nelson on a 25-yard run up the middle. The second quarter was split wide open when Ron Robertson made a spectacular 82-yard kick-off return for Nampa's second touchdown. Minutes later, Ervin Karst plowed over on a three-yard drive bringing the score to 18-0. Borah suddenly sparking to life, made the final touchdown of the game, and came in on the short end of the 18-6 score.

The third and final half of the jamboree was scoreless with Nampa pitted against Caldwell.

Pictured to the left is John Bishop and Layne Dike who had the jobs of varsity managers. They had a two-fold job of helping Dean and keeping the players happy.

Nampa Trounces Twin Falls

In an October 3 tilt at Bulldog Bowl the Nampa Bulldogs used passes to out score the Twin Falls Bruins 34-7.

Twin Falls managed to be ahead at the end of the first quarter with a score of Twin Falls 7, Nampa 6; but the rest of the game was Nampa's. Touchdowns, made in the first half by Nampa's Fred Bergeman, Roger Nelson, and Dennis Alldredge, moved the score at the half to 20-7. Ron Dike added two more in the second half to obtain the final score of Nampa 34 and Twin Falls 7.

Heavy penalties were sustained by both teams. Nampa had 6 that totaled 60 yards, and Twin Falls also had 6, for a total of 70 yards.

Nampa Holds Idaho Falls Scoreless

The tough Nampa Bulldogs held the Idaho Falls Tigers scoreless, 27-0, in Nampa's first SIC game at Nampa on September 26.

Leland Benner converted Nampa's only completed pass into a 41-yard touchdown for the Bulldog's first score. The second quarter was scoreless but after the halftime Nampa clicked three times. Ron Robertson ran 23 yards for the second Nampa TD, Ervin Karst ran 12 yards for the third, and Ron Dike added another 6 points with a 9-yard run into paydirt. All three PAT tries were good. Idaho Falls presented quite a threat in the last quarter when they intercepted three Nampa passes.

During the game Nampa racked up 12 first downs and 5 penalties, totaling 35 yards compared to Idaho Falls' 7 first downs and 4 penalties for 50 yards.

Nampa Set Aside by Lewiston 20-12

A long trip had little effect on a determined Lewiston eleven that invaded the Bulldogs' pawing ground last October 11. Lewiston got off to a slow start and finished behind a fired-up Nampa team at the end of the first half.

The first half found both teams very evenly matched with Nampa on top 6-0, by virtue of Ron Robertson's 30-yard touchdown ramble.

Play in the second half rapidly progressed as Lewiston pushed across two touchdowns. Nampa gamely came back as Roger Nelson scored Nampa's second touchdown.

The Bulldog eleven momentarily seemed to spark alive after the first plays following the second score, but the determination of the scrappy little team from up North could not be denied and the last Bulldog drive was stopped deep in Bengal territory.

When the game was over the statistics column showed that the Bulldog eleven had out rushed the Lewiston team 278 yards to 72. In the first down department the Bulldogs were ahead 13 to 5.

Boise Rocks Nampa 26-0

Boise's powerful line and Teen Magazine star, Dawn Fannin, led a relentless Boise Brave crew to a 26-0 victory over a stubborn Nampa Bulldog eleven Friday, October 17, in Bronco Stadium.

The first half ended with Boise ahead by a score of 6-0 on the efforts of Fannin's 80-yard touchdown scamper.

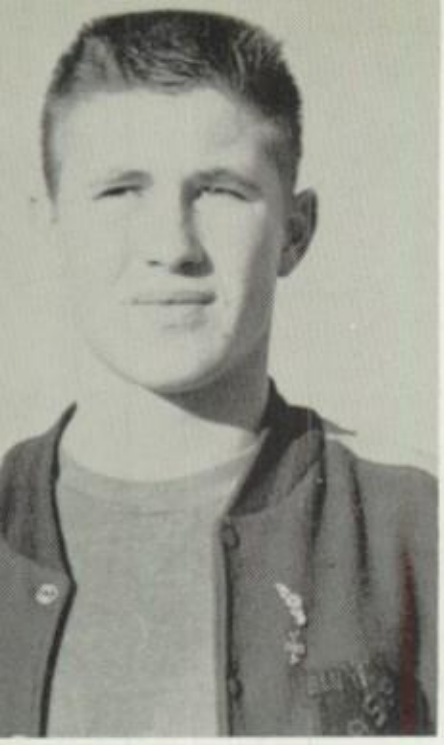
The second half began to show on the Nampa forward wall as it gave way to gaping holes for the Boise backs.

Boise's last three touchdowns came quite rapidly on runs by Fannin and Kozak and a touchdown pass by Larry Jefferies. Workhorse of the Boise crew was Fanning with 216 yards rushing.

Nampa had little to cheer about except for some fine runs by Dike and punt returns by Robertson. Even Nampa's passing attack faltered as in the last minutes of play Bulldog pass receivers couldn't hold onto the elusive pigskin.

Final tallies showed that miscues on Bulldog defense was the deciding factor rather than the power of the Boise ground game as Nampa out rushed the Boise squad.

If these Borah Lions have their way and the referees are on their side, Roger Nelson's run seems at an end.



RON DIKE

ALL BIG SIC

By the look on Ron Dike's face he knows all will soon come to an end.

Pocatello beats Nampa 19-14

A couple of bad breaks in the last quarter let Pocatello Indians slip past Nampa and into a three-way tie for first place in S.I.C. Nampa moved down to share second place with Caldwell.

The first score of the game for Pocatello and the first in the game was scored by Kay Barber in the second quarter.

After the half the Bulldog offense finally began to click. Ron Dike chalked up the first six pointer with a two-yard plunge and Mike Spratt followed a short time later with a five-yard run around left end. Ron Dike added both extra points with dives of two yards each. At the end of the third quarter the score stood at 14-6 in favor of Nampa. This left Pocky with the near impossible task of scoring twice on the Bulldog defense in one quarter. This the Indians proceeded to do. The first touchdown came quickly on an intercepted pass. The situation still looked hopeless for the Indians until a fumbled punt by Ron Robertson on the Nampa 37 moved Poky into Nampa territory. Poky was bogged down until an automatic first down by a penalty was awarded the Poky squad. This was quickly converted into a Poky score by Ray Anderson on a twenty-yard jaunt around right end making the final score 19-14 in favor of the Pocatello Indians.

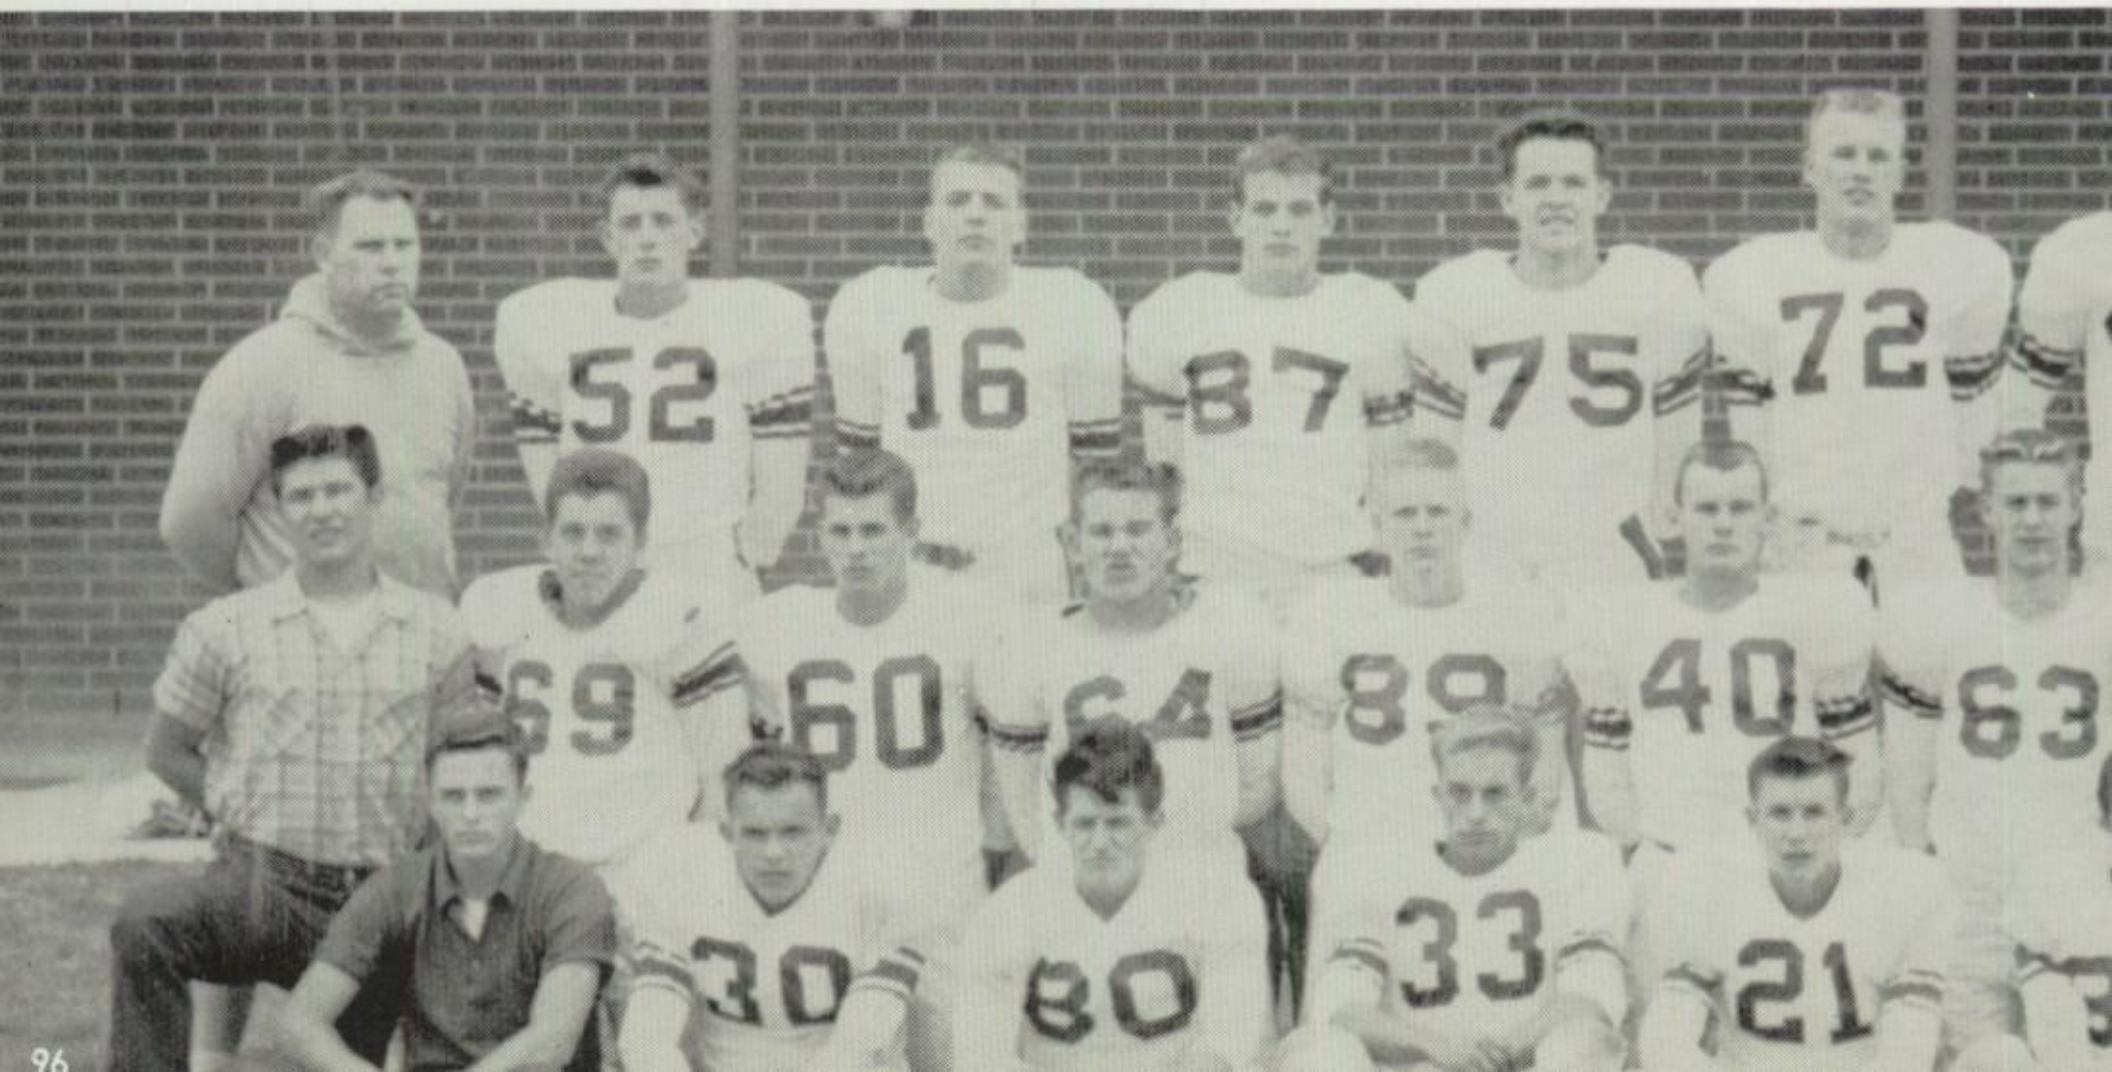
ALL BIG SIC



This Lewiston linebacker looks like he has definite plans for Ron Robertson.

Borah Hexes Nampa in Halloween Tilt.

Fighting for a chance at the conference title, the Borah Lions slipped past the Nampa Bulldogs 20-14.

Bill Shaw scored Nampa's first touchdown in the first half and Wanek Stein grabbed a pass and ran across for Borah's only first half tally. However Nampa's conversion was good and the Bulldogs led at the half 7-6. In the second half Stein and John Ahlin added 14 more points to Borah's score. Roger Nelson added the Bulldogs' final tally to make the final score Borah 20 to Nampa's 14.

Caldwell bests Nampa in Armistice Game 21-7

The spirit of '76 was lacking in the Nampa team on Armistice Day as they were subdued by a spirited Caldwell eleven. The victory moved Caldwell into a three-way tie for second place in the newly formed S.I.C.

Doom struck early in the game for the Bulldogs as Caldwell's Dick Darling intercepted a pass on the Nampa 11 and carried it to the one. Bicandi scored and Neil kicked PAT.

Caldwell's second touchdown was set up by a recovered fumble on the Nampa 23. Eight plays later Darling punched over from the four. The half ended with Nampa behind 14-0.

Both teams started slow in the third quarter but Nampa, taking to the air on passes from Dike to Alldredge, Karst, and Nelson took the ball to the Caldwell three where Nelson went over for the score.

The fourth quarter started quickly for Nampa as the Bulldogs kept the passing game going but Dike's 15 completions out of 22 attempts was to no avail as fate and the time plagued Nampa. Nampa's last hopes were smashed late in the final minutes by a Caldwell pass interception.

Ernest Kennedy and George Keil

Ernie Kennedy, Nampa's head Sophomore coach, is beginning to make himself known around school as he has, in his second year at N.H.S., captured the new tri-city Sophomore league football trophy that was organized this year. Ernie, a native Nampan, started his schooling in Ogden and after high school went to Weaver Junior College. An athletic scholarship brought Ernie back to Idaho at the C. of I. where he received his diploma. As no life goes blissfully, Ernie had his moments as he served in the merchant marines in '44 and in Korea in '51. Mr. Kennedy's coaching and teaching career started in Caldwell, then he was transplanted to the Oregon school systems before coming to Nampa.

George Keil has proved to be Mr. Kennedy's strong right arm this year as he has assisted Mr. Kennedy in the fine football team they were able to put out. Mr. Keil teaches geometry and is head basketball coach.

Terry Glover, Hugh Leslie and Loren Benner were the Sophomore managers this year.

Pictured below is the trophy that the sophomores received as the champions of the newly formed tri-city league composed of Caldwell, the two Boise schools, and Nampa. The Sophomores had a very successful season finishing with a 7-0 record.

General Season

ROBERT HARRELL

The regular season ended for the Bulldogs February 17 as Nampa beat the Emmett Huskies on the Huskies home floor 54-49. Nampa's first season win was also against Emmett as George Keil and crew beat Emmett December 5, 73-45. This final win resulted in a 12-7 season record (.632) and a 8-4 S.I.C. conference total. The 8-4 conference record placed Nampa second in the league behind Pocatello.

The Bulldogs, in seasons play, were only beaten twice by one team as Idaho Falls romped past the Nampa crew with two hard fought victories. Other S.I.C. teams found rougher going against Keil's quintet. Pocatello, who annually beats all comers on their floor shellacked Nampa by 31 points, at home, only to be trimmed 44-42 on their journey into Bulldog land. Pocatello and Caldwell were two teams with impressive records who received their first loss from the Bulldogs. Jerome on its home court at one time led Nampa 19-1 and eventually took the game 47-38; but the Tigers found the going at Nampa not so easy as they were polished off 30-29.

Nampa's only overtime game was the battle with Boise, when Boise was overturned 55-49 at the end of the first regulation overtime. Nampa wasn't always so lucky, however, in the last seconds. In the final minutes, Baker, Blue Mountain Champions, squeezed past Nampa 47-46 after trailing the Nampa five for all but the last two minutes of the game.

Varsity Cheerleaders

"It's fifteen and three for the team" as the Varsity Cheerleaders Jim Dobbs, Yell King; Kay Masingill, Yell Queen; Judy Masingill, Yell Duchess; and Eddie Doorn, Yell Duke; lead the student body in yells to increase the school spirit.

Their efforts and the results they produce are greatly appreciated by the teams and the student body in general. There will be a place in our memories for the Varsity Cheerleaders of '59.

The four have done an outstanding job this year in their efforts to raise the spirit of the Class of '61. They have co-operated closely with the Varsity Cheerleaders in helping form the sections at the home games.

Music

Orchestra

Music from strings. The music floating from the Little Theatre comes to us with pleasant memories of a variety of programs, including performances at the Orchestra Concert, Baccalaureate and Graduation Service. Under the leadership of director Winfield Kircher, the group attended the District Music Festival well prepared. Assisting Mr. Kircher were officers: Connie Kirkman, President; Katheleen Morrison, Vice President; and Kay Rupert, Secretary. Members of the string ensemble, pictured above, presented a feature number at the annual orchestra concert last January, The number presented by this group was only one feature of the concert but it was an essential part of the whole.

String Quartet

This String Quartet was featured in the annual Orchestra concert, P.T.A., and the Athletic Banquet. The group practices once every week. Pictured here are Kathleen Morrison, Lee Seitz, Barbara Pipkin, and Connie Kirkman.

"B" Choir

The purpose of "B" Choir is to train students for the "A" Choir and to meet the needs of those who do not wish to be in performance. Members learn the fundamentals of reading music and of voice production. These are the thirty-four members of "B" Choir. Their pianist is Carmond Witteman. The instructor is Winfield Kircher.

"A" Choir

Under the leadership of Winfield Kircher, the "A" Choir is one of our most important organizations. This group participated in the District and State Music Festivals and in the annual choir concert. The group also participated in the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies. This year's officers were Ron Jones, President; Fred Atkins, Vice President; Gerri Schmitt, Secretary; and Joyce Woolery, Robe Chairman.

Dance Band

Whether it's a lively rock n' roll rhythm, or a slow waltz, this Nampa High dance band can keep the place jumping. Headed by Marilyn Pywell these nine members organized the Nampa High Dance Band this year to promote their interest in music, and to create a new band to play for the school "hops." The band has played for many after-game dances.

"A" Band

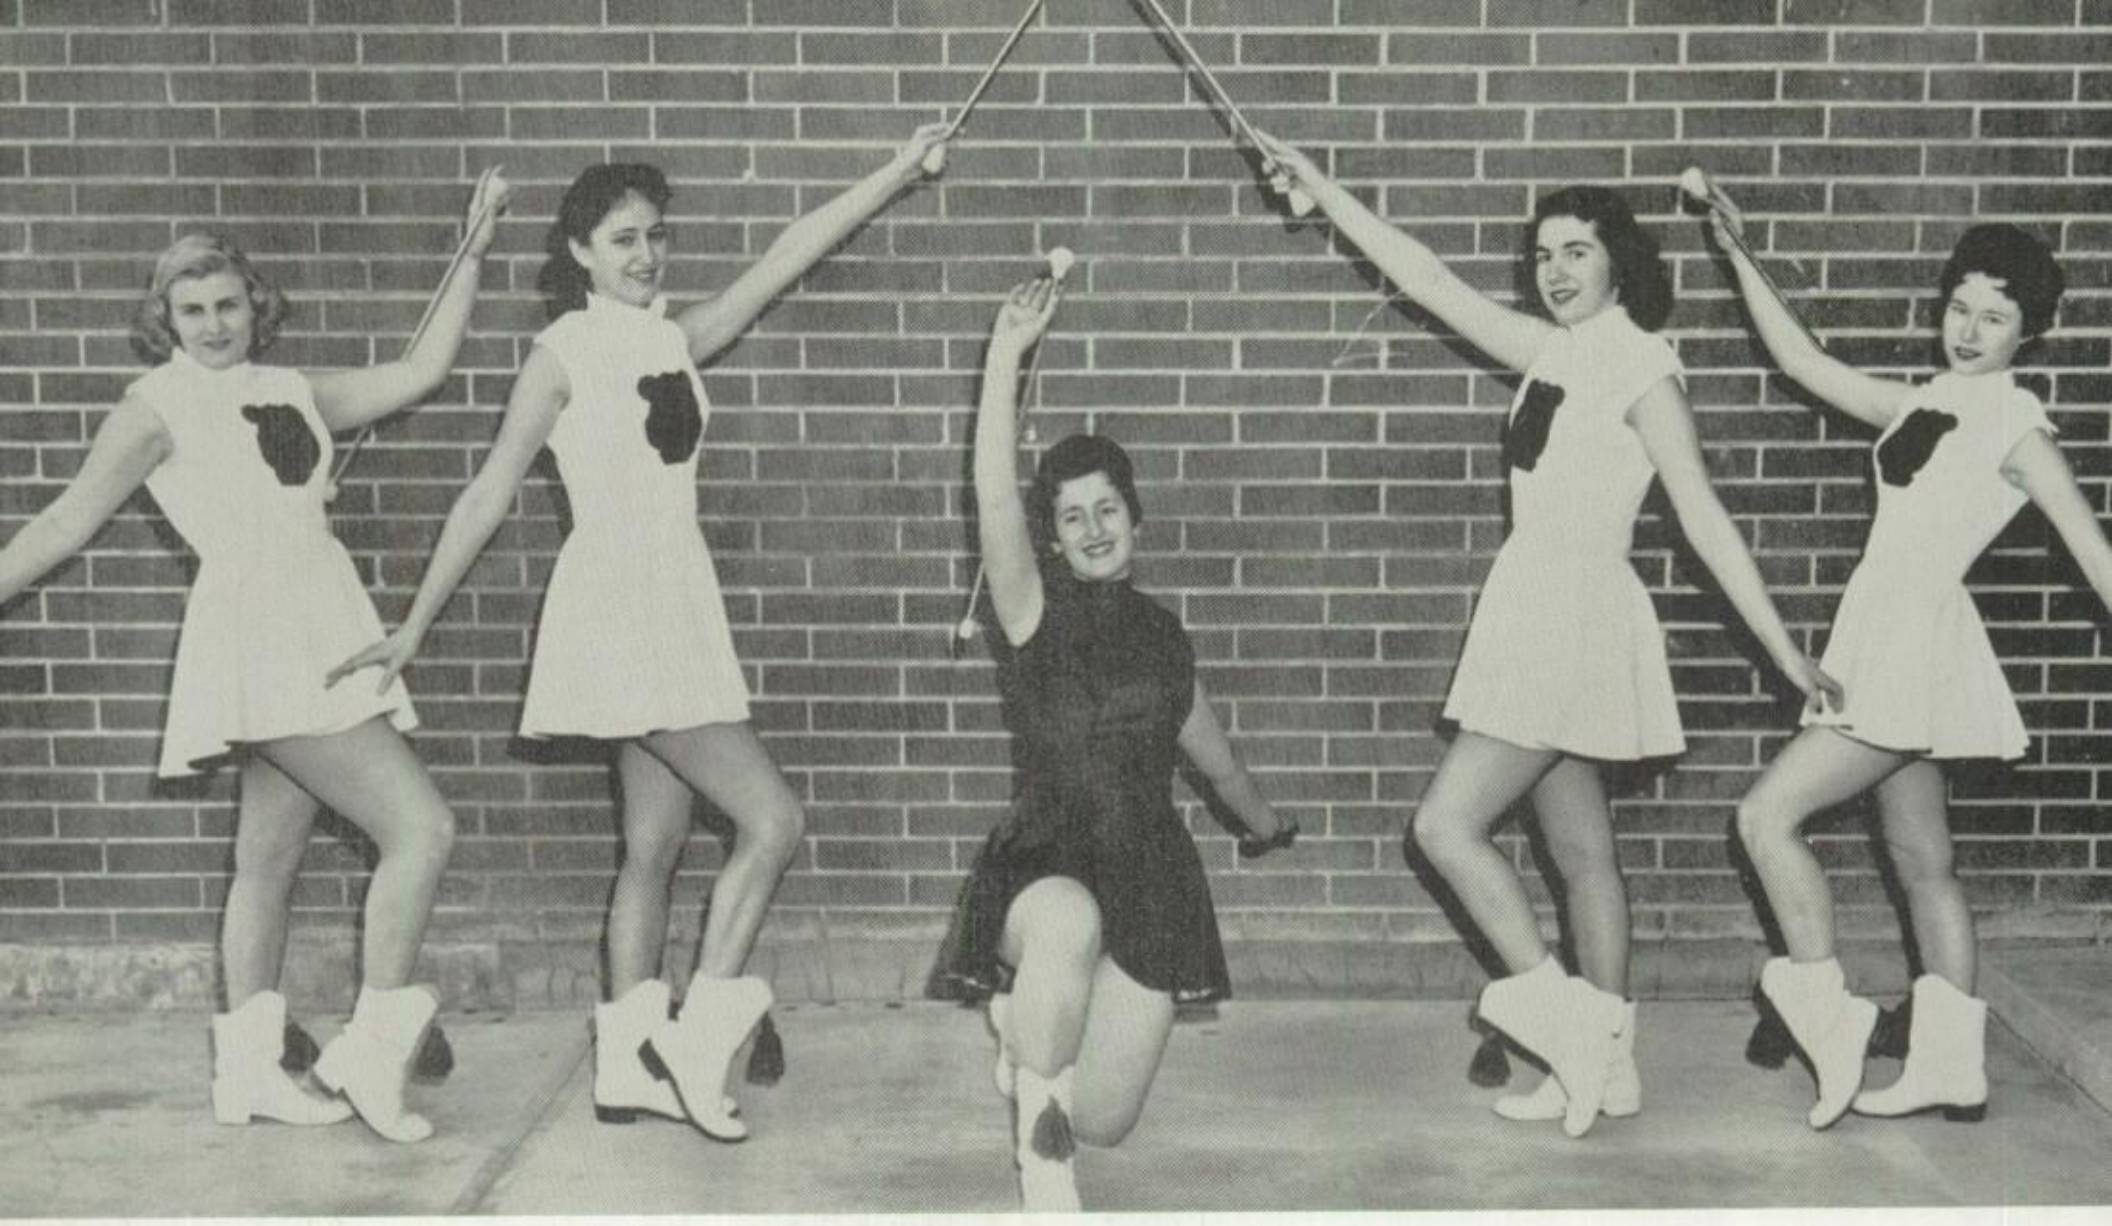
Music and rhythm! Emanating from the music room every morning is the best music the band has to offer. Under the baton of Earle McKeever the "A" Band has shown great spirit and enthusiasm playing for all home football games and performing at half-times. One of the band's major appearances during the year was the annual "Swing" Concert, presented in December. Although the band members worked hard for the various performances, their major efforts were devoted to preparing themselves for the District and State Music festivals. Band members chose Jim Wecker as their President and bestowed the honor of Drum Major on Terry Westmark.

Pep Band

An "On the Ball" Pep Band thrilled us with their appearance and performances at all our hometown games and pep assemblies. These twenty-nine musicians also provided music for the Spizettes drill team. Deanna Duffy directed the pep band with the help of Manager, Joy Baumgartner.

Training Band

Developing inexperienced people who are musically inclined and giving those who are capable and deserving a chance to participate in "A" Band, are the main purposes of this music organization. Some students who attend "B" Band don't care to perform anywhere except in class, but they still want to learn appreciation of good music. Earl McKeever is the director of training band, pictured below.



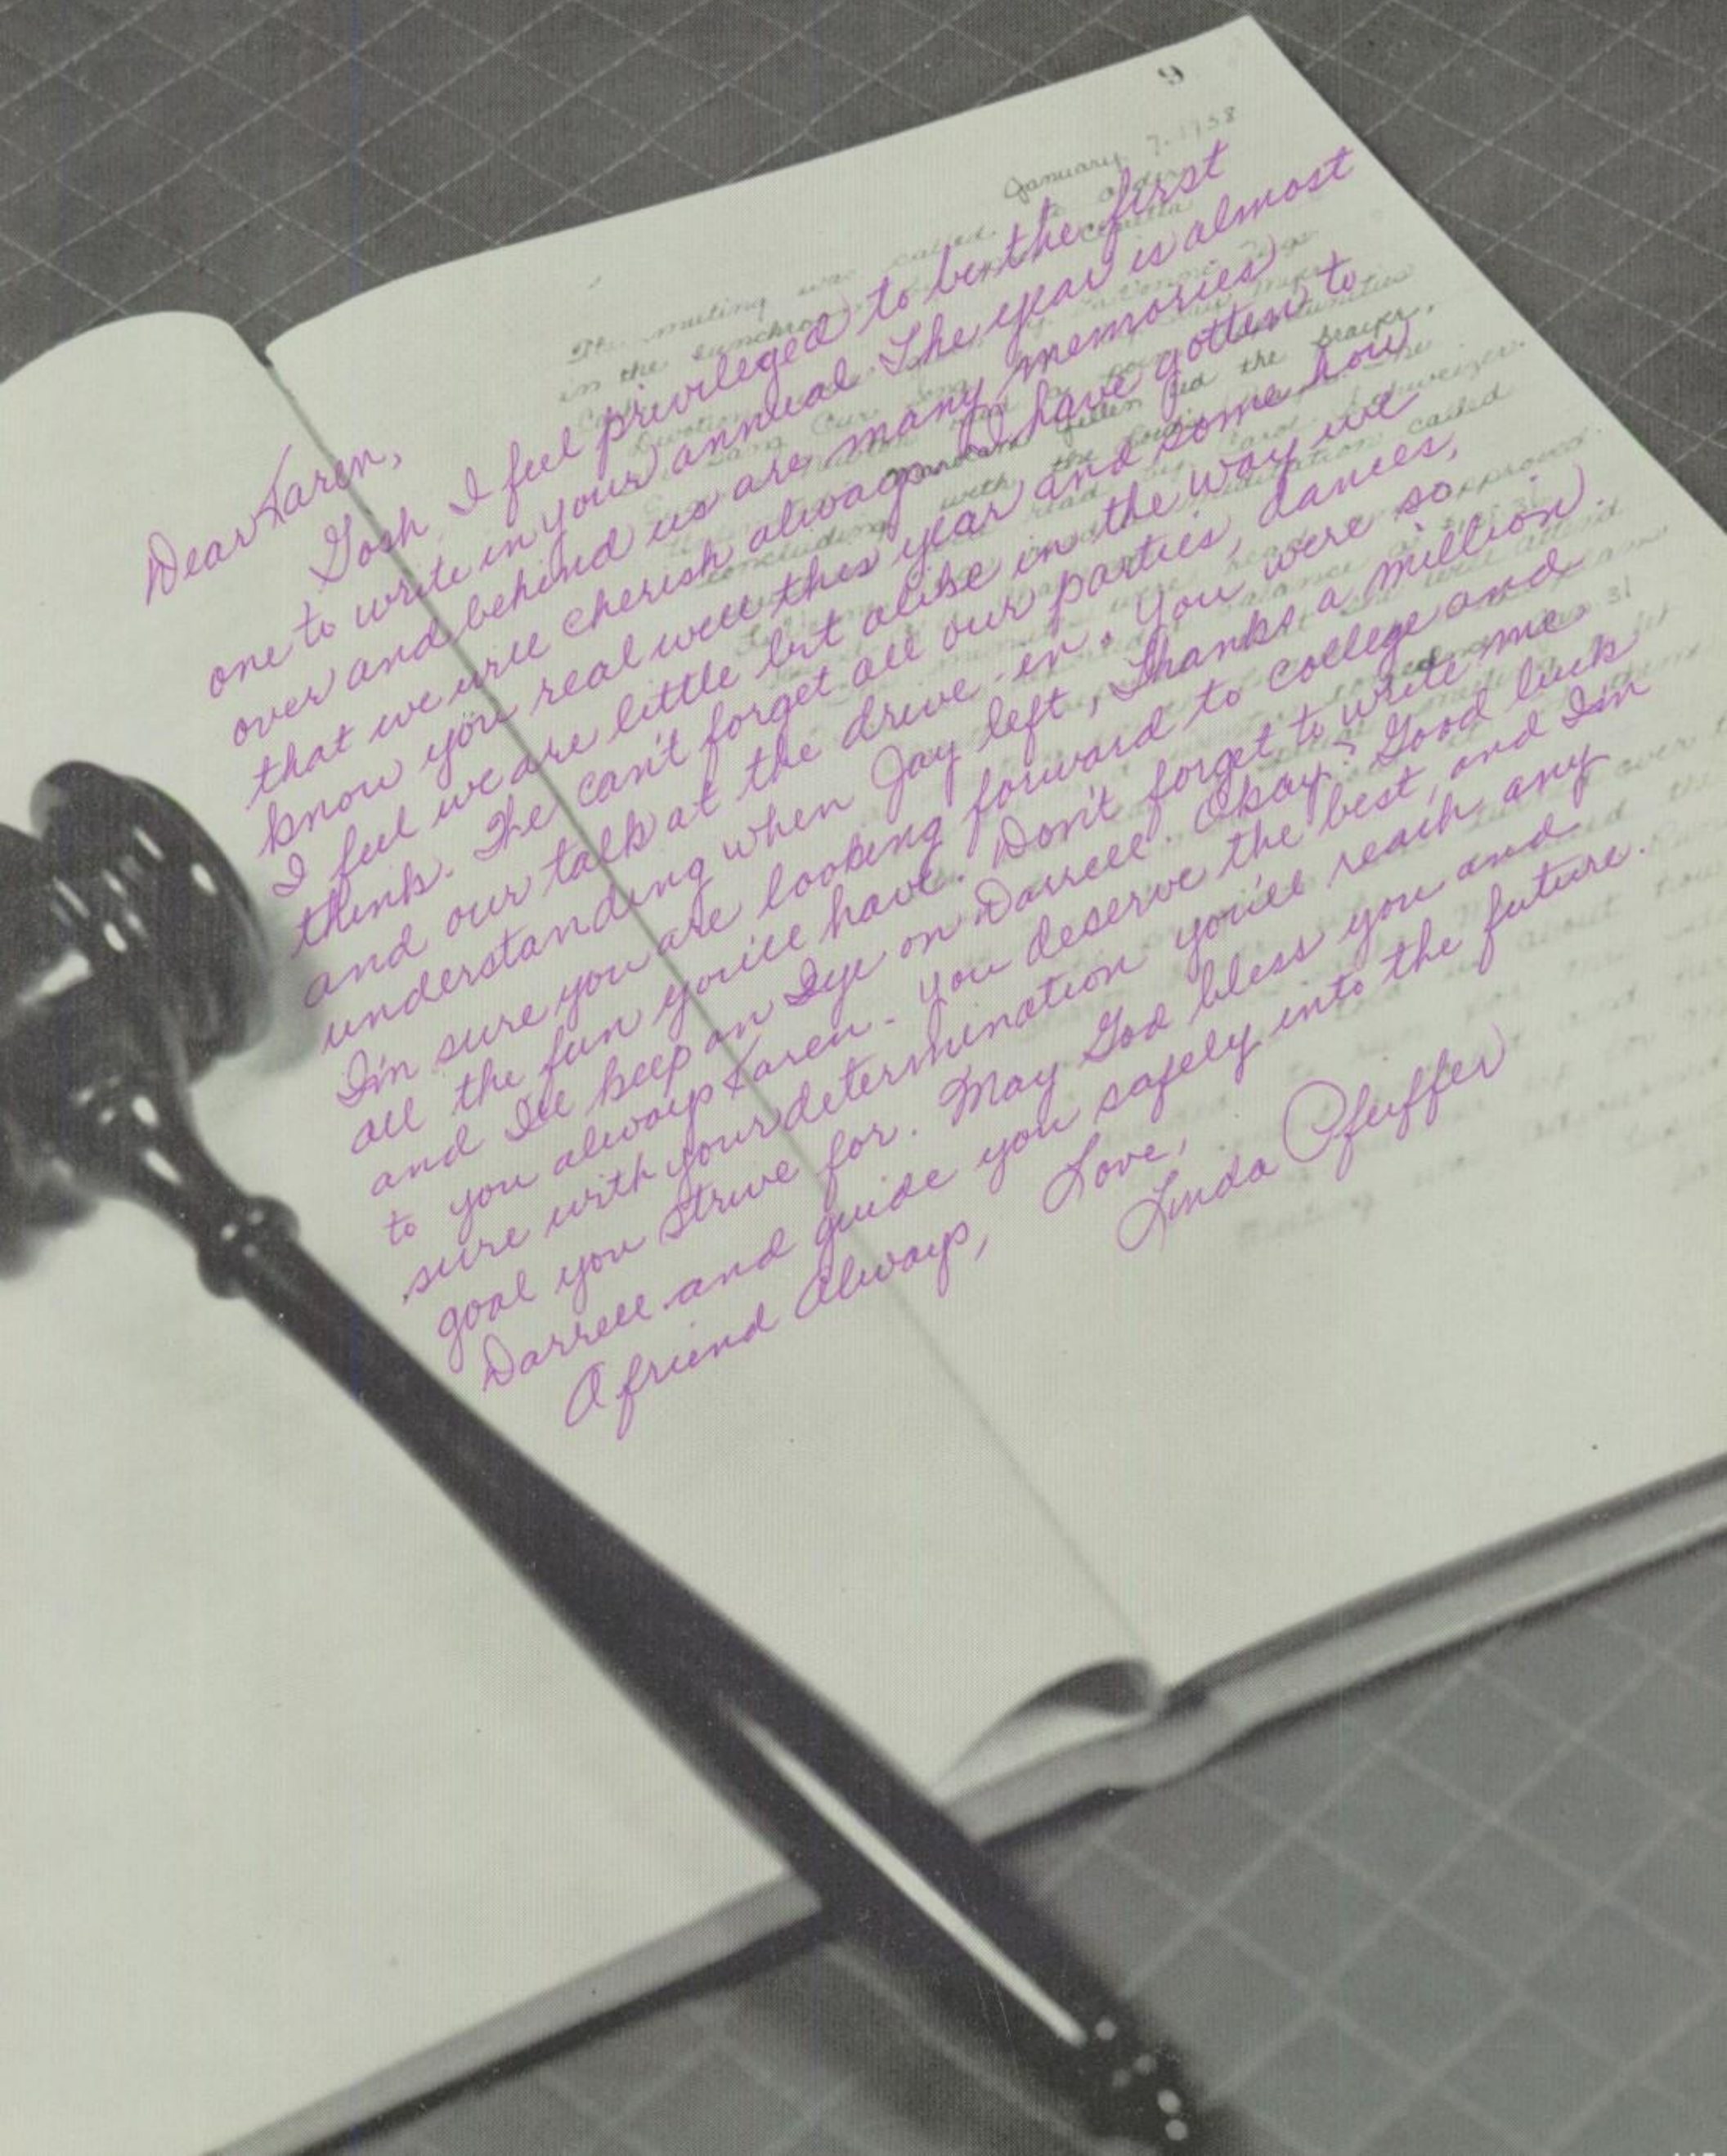
Twirlers

Long hours of practice lie behind the performances of Nampa High's twirlers. Their performances at all football games demonstrate their ability to make up new routines. At Christmas they traveled to Boise to participate in the Fairyland Parade, and in April the girls performed in the annual district Music Festival. Drum Majorette, Norma Dennie, was assisted by twirlers, Vonda Newman, Carolyn DuBois, LaVonne Tiegs, and Irene Bishop.

Drum Major and Majorette

You may remember seeing these two seniors leading the band during half-time performances at football games the past season. They are Nampa High's Drum Major, Terry Westmark and Drum Majorette, Norma Dennie. Aside from band activities Terry has devoted much of his artistic ability to the class publications, Green Years, Upward Climb, and Summit. Norma is active in GAA, FTA, and is treasurer of Y-Teens.

Organizations



Dear Karen,
Gosh I feel privileged to be the first one to write in your annual. The year is almost over and behind us are many memories that we will cherish always. I have gotten to know you real well these years and some how I feel we are little but alike in the way we think. He can't forget all our parties, dances, and our talks at the drive-in. You were so understanding when Jay left, Thanks a million
I'm sure you are looking forward to college and all the fun you'll have. Don't forget to write me and I'll keep an eye on Darreee. Okay? Good luck to you always Karen - You deserve the best, and I'm sure with your determination you'll reach any goal you strive for. May God bless you and Darreee and guide you safely into the future.
A friend always,
Love,

LINDA PFEIFFER

Our year begins with a lot of yack,
But, man! We hafta pick up slack;
Hodge sits back and silently knows,
That soon we'll be up on our toes.

Donna and Martina scurry to and fro,
With cameras clicking and bulbs aglow;
But editor Jake has really a job,
It's almost as bad as getting rid of the blob.

I really don't know how we put up with Dike,
But then his section, I'm sure, we shall like;
And Judy in the corner looking quite fine,
Most certainly won't when it's her deadline.

Sandee observes a Sophomore lad,
But the Junior she sees isn't quite that bad;
Corder's statistics are having a blast,
And he certainly hopes it won't last and last.

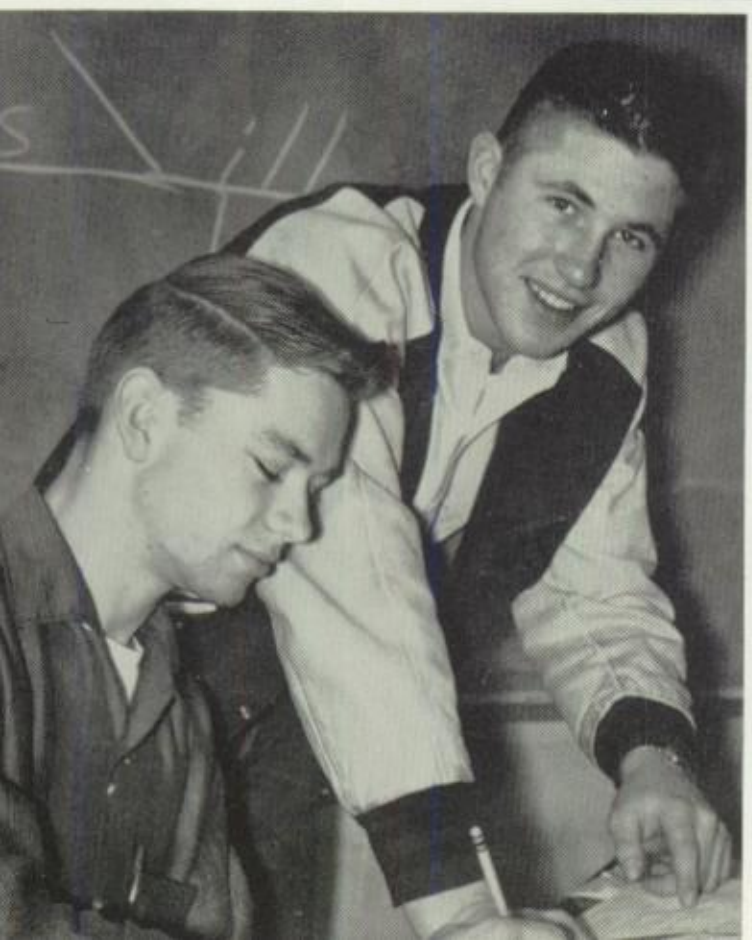
Don is our artist to whom we give credit
All the neat posters that get rid of our debit.
Linda's importance keeps the books in check
But once in a while she sure catches heck.

Hoppins, our trustworthy man named Friday,
Sometimes acts like he came from Mt. Idey;
But then after the shipment has lost our yen,
We simply start all over again.

By MARLENE SPIELMAN

"Somewhere over the rainbow"—Don's mind flies. Come back to Sage class, Don, don't let Sandee do all the work. We all realize that the art editor must show creative thinking, but this is ridiculous.

"Yo, ho, ho and a bottle of rum." It's strange the things you'll find in closets. In this particular closet we find three of the Sage editors, Judy Pilant, Senior Editor; Marlene Spielman, Faculty, Feature, and Music Editor; and Corder Campbell, Statistics Editor, searching diligently for an orderly compilation of the facts, all contained in a little green box.



"Dike, must you always be telling someone what to do?" Seriously though, Ron Hoppins and Ron Dike, Co-Sports Editors are proudly pointing to one of their completed triplicates.

With a fresh supply of flash bulbs the Senior Sage Photographers, Donna Rutherford and Martina Gerritsen, right, set out to capture, upon light sensitive celluloid, some more graphic examples of campus life.

Growl

The major qualities needed for success in Growl membership are: a demonstrated interest in newspaper work, good writing ability, ability to write correctly without mechanical errors, and an enthusiasm for the school.

Every two weeks Growl members demonstrate anew their possession of these qualities as they work very hard to provide the best possible newspaper coverage for Nampa High School.

The Growl has been organized since 1938 and copies of the Growl dating back to then are still on file. The publishing staff this year was Editor-in-Chief, Linda Dawson; Assistant Editor, Jim Metcalf; and Business Manager, Carol Lee Fobes. Advisor of the Growl is Mrs. Bessie Baker.

Karen Allen's typing error has struck the funny bone of Growl members Judie Harbaugh and Keith Bird. Keith is Sports Editor on the Growl staff and Judy and Karen are Advertising Managers.

At center, the Growl staff typists, Edwina Hill, is receiving some back seat advice from Marlene Godfrey, Circulation Manager, prior to meeting a Growl deadline.

Above, Jim Metcalf is searching through the back files of the Growl closet in Mrs. Baker's classroom. Jim serves as Linda Dawson's right-hand-man in his capacity as Associate Growl Editor.

"That's due tomorrow, and no later!" Linda Dawson, Editor of the Growl, reminds her Growl staff of an approaching deadline.

Quill and Scroll

A long time ago Quill and Scroll was active at N.H.S. Then something happened and it remained inactive for many years. Three years ago, however, it was again organized under the chapter name, "M. A. Bodahl Chapter." To become a member of this international society a student must be either a junior or senior; have written at least 200 inches of material which has been published in a newspaper, have served a year on the yearbook staff or business staff of the newspaper, or a publications staff. Each year Quill and Scroll gives creative writing awards to students in all classes who deserve recognition for outstanding work.

Mrs. Grace Jordon, author of Home Below Hell's Canyon, and Mrs. Edna Joll, well-known Idaho poet, were speakers at the banquet initiation held December 2. Other social events were held during the year. This year's officers were President, Linda Dawson; Vice President, Edwina Hill; and Secretary-Treasurer, Carol Lee Fobes. The club is advised by Bessie Baker.

Summit

The senior publication, The Summit has just finished its third year. The Summit was organized from the two comprehensive English IV classes to publish a collection of the best literary works of the senior class. Any creative writer in the senior class might contribute material to this magazine. However the editorial staff and the business managers were elected from the comprehensive classes. Funds for the magazine were raised by after game dances and subscription sales. A pot-luck dinner was held in January for discussion of material by the staff. This year's staff were: Editors, Don Johnson and Barbara Harrison; Business Managers, Ron Dike and Ron Hoppins; Art Editor, Terry Westmark; and Typists, Joyce Clute and Marilyn Pywell. Club advisor is Bessie Baker.

Green Years

Members of the Sophomore class combine their creative writing talents to produce the sophomore class magazine, The Green Years. To help provide funds for the magazine, the Green Years Dance and candy sale were held.

Under the leadership of Beverly Labrum, Editor; Mike Ostyn, Assistant Editor; and Ruth Adams, Business Manager; the sophomore English department produced a collection of stories, poems, and other creative writings. Miss Ardis Minna serves as advisor for the Green Years.

Upward Climb

The Junior publication, Upward Climb, is in its second year of publication. It is made up of outstanding creative writings, poetry, short stories, and essays done by the English III students. Funds for the magazine were raised by an after-game dance in the gymnasium and subscription sales. The Upward Climb has as co-editors, Vicki Leukenga and Janice Chace; co-business managers, Donna Fletcher and Arnold Wallace. English teachers, Mrs. Roth and Mrs. Mowery, act as publication advisors.

Debate Club

The debate club under the direction of Mr. Mathews, studies the pro's and con's of important issues. Melissa Egbert, Karen Liljenquist, Karen Allen and Carol Shaver, head the club as President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, respectively.

This year Nampa's debaters participated in many tournaments, winning 2nd place at the tournament at Rexburg and 2nd place at College of Idaho. In the girls' Senior division at B.J.C. Nampa girl debaters took 1st place. At the world's largest Invitational Debate Tournament at Weber College in Ogden, Utah, the Nampa girls' team, Melissa Egbert and Karen Liljenquist took 2nd place.

N.F.L.

The National Forensic League is a national honor society of debate students and those who excel in dramatic speaking. Members join the club on a basis of earned points determined by the number of wins and losses in debate tournaments and placing in oratorical and extemporaneous speaking.

This year members took part in tournaments at College of Idaho in Caldwell, Idaho, Idaho State College in Pocatello, and Weber College in Ogden, Utah. Officers for '59 are President, Melissa Egbert; Vice President, Karen Liljenquist; Secretary, Karen Allen; Treasurer, Carol Shaver; and advisor, Mr. Leo Mathews.

Service Club

One of the high honors a student at Nampa High can receive is to be accepted into Service Club. Only sophomores who have good grades and have shown the qualities of dependability and the ability to do assigned work are chosen by the club advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Cruse. Each year the members' duties take them to the school games and other school functions where they sell and collect tickets and perform other jobs as necessary.

A banquet was held January 28 and in the late spring the club went on an outing into the hills.

Officers are: President, Dennis Knowlton; Vice President, Ron Hoppins; and Secretary, Ann Kellogg.

Honor Society

Another of the highest honors that a student of Nampa High School can receive is to be accepted into Honor Society. Students are accepted into this organization upon the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the school.

These students are selected only during the junior and senior years in high school. Only the top 15% of each class is chosen, the top five per cent during the last of the junior year and the remaining 10% at the beginning of the senior year. A highlight of each club year is the initiation of new members.

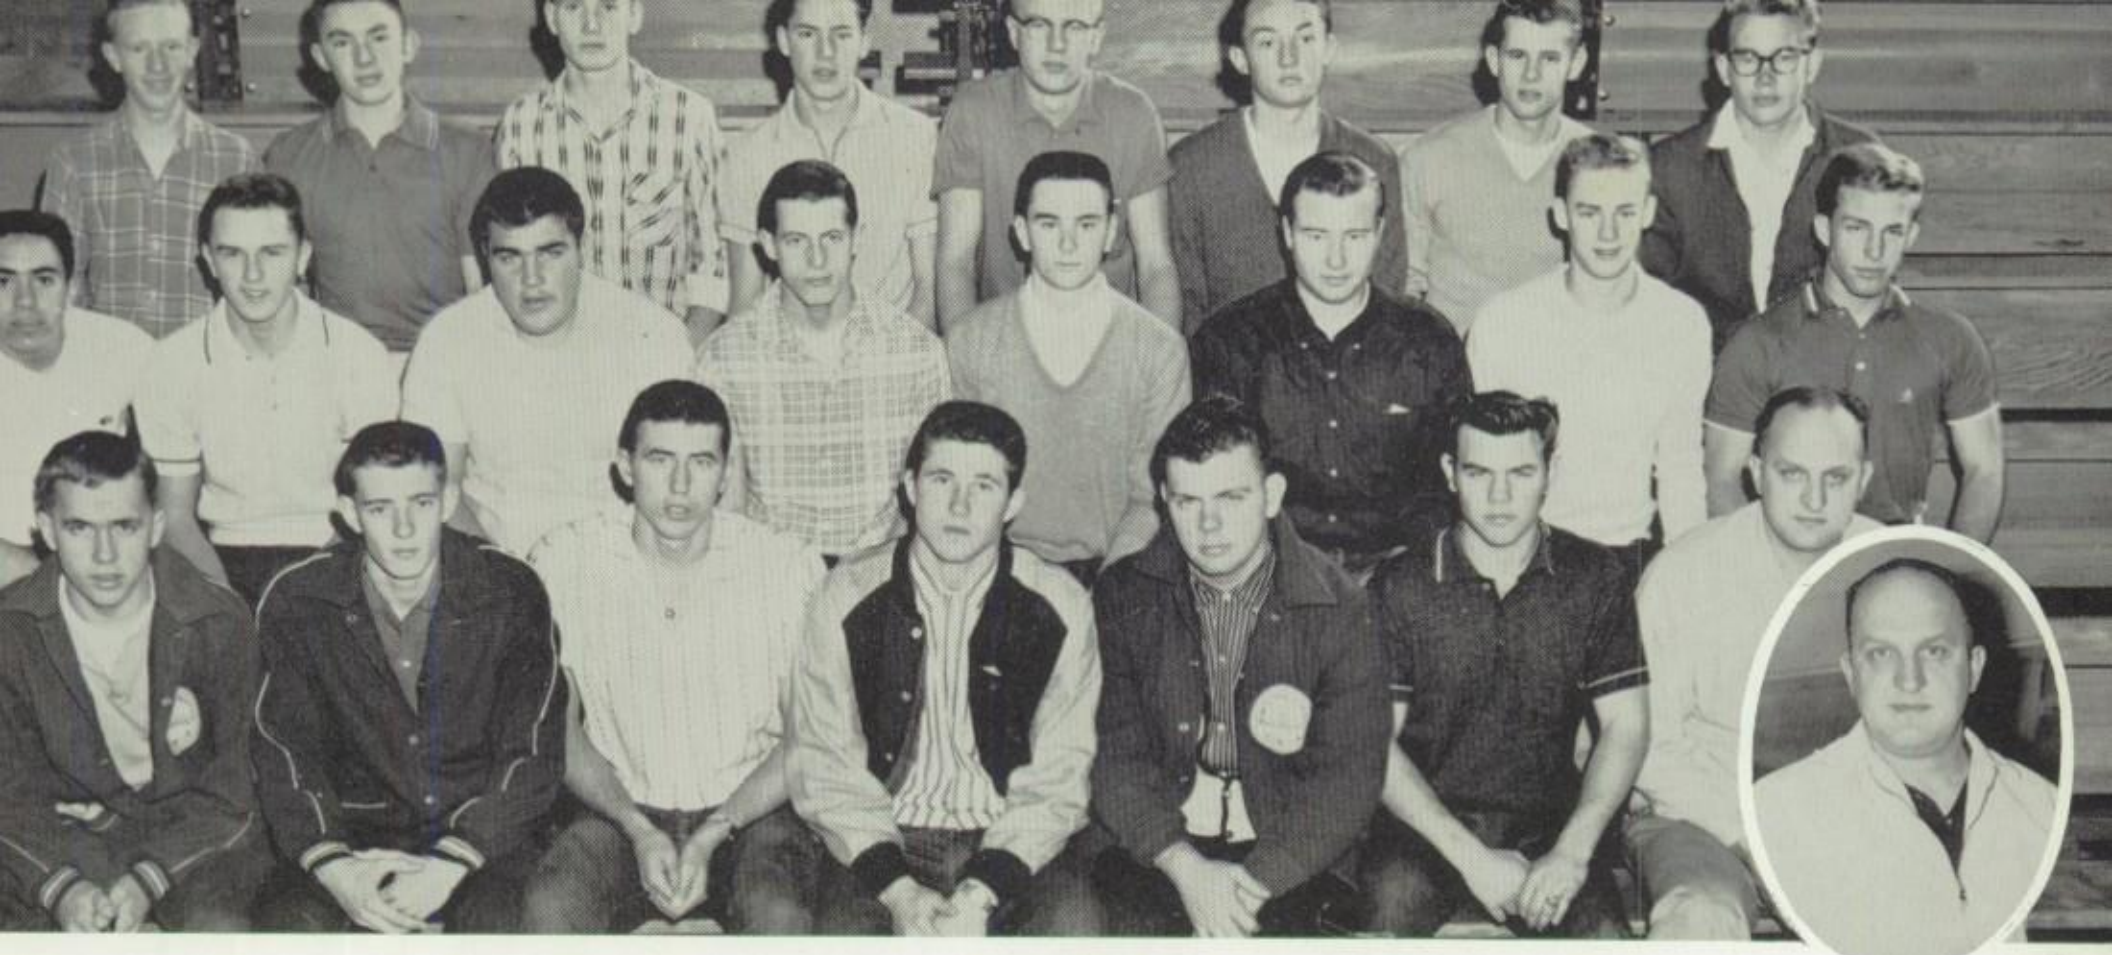
The club officers first semester were: President, Jim Wecker; Vice President, Barbara Birket; Secretary, Joanna Maier; Treasurer, JoAnn Sheffield. Second semester officers were: President, Don Johnson; Vice President, Harold Lupton; Secretary, Sandra Ford; Treasurer, Sherrel Walker; and Manager of the coat check stand, Robin Russell. The advisor is Miss Mina Conrad.

Spiz

"Snappy Pep Insures Zest." This is the meaning of SPIZ. In striving to attain their goal, the club members perform activities which help encourage good sportsmanship among students.

Girls in SPIZ are chosen on the basis of the highest points earned through a point system. Members of the Spizettes drill team are also chosen from SPIZ Girls.

SPIZ girls sell hotdogs at the football games, sponsor an athletic banquet for all lettermen in the spring, a fall Tea and Style Show when we invite other pep clubs from other towns, the Annual SPIZ formal held in April, and a Senior Farewell Banquet in the spring. Spizzers can be identified by their blue skirts and winesweaters with a Blu-N and the letters SPIZ on it. These outfits are accented by blue collars, white oxfords and blue anklets. Officers of SPIZ this year are: Betty Clegg, President; Judy Pilant, Vice President; Sandee Ford, Secretary; Roberta Givens, Treasurer; Carol Lee Fobes, Historian; and Virgie Schmitt, Sergeant-at-Arms.



Blu-N

Brandishing initiation paddles high the "exalted Blu-N members" began the season of activities at the expense of the "lowly initiates." The Blu-N holds two initiations annually which generally lets in some 15 to 20 members at each initiation.

The club was organized in 1903 back in the misty beginnings of "Old Nampa High." Since that time, the club has been affiliated with the other schools in the conference. Today Blu-N is closely controlled by a code of standards set down by the SIC conference.

High points of the year are the initiations and a traditional members quail feed and pheasant feed banquet. These are set off periodically by parties for members and guests and by an annual football jamboree. Chief engineers of the activities are Ron Dike, President; Roger Nelson, Vice President; and Bill Potter, Secretary-Treasurer.

Requirements for membership are a letter in any school sport and energy to get through the initiation.

Spizettes

Due to the fine efforts of the Spizettes, Nampa High enjoyed a variety of marches during half time entertainment at basketball games during the past season. For the most part, the girls worked out their own routines. Much credit is due the members of this group for the many hours they spent in practicing routines early in the mornings, from 7:30 until school convened, previous to a performance.

The eye catching outfits of the Spizettes are black corduroy with long sleeves, and short circular skirts accented with full red net crinolines, red pixie, soft soled slippers, and red gloves.

Leading the group were Barbara Harrison, President; Dottie Pitman, Vice President; Glenys Johnston, Secretary; Karen Brandt, Music Director; and Ardis Minna, Advisor.

Y-Teens

An International Girls' organization open to all girls in Nampa High is Y-Teens, sponsored by the Adult organization Y.W.C.A. The Club's purpose is for members to grow in Christian fellowship.

In the way of activities, Y-Teens sponsored a big sister day in the fall, to help the sophomore girls become better acquainted at Nampa High. Club members also held a Senior Farewell Banquet in the spring, and decorated a Christmas tree at Christmas time.

Many of the girls attended the Mid-Winter Conference at the C. of I. in January 31.

The club is led by President, Claretta Cash; Vice President, Sharon Hower; Treasurer, Norma Dennie; Secretary, Sandee Ford; Historian, Jerilyn Burlingname; and Sergeant-at-Arms, LaVonne Tiegs. The club advisor is Mrs. Mowery.

Hi-Y

Creating and promoting high standards of Christian character in the home and community is the active concern of the Hi-Y. Organized as an auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., the Hi-Y co-sponsors the Easter and Thanksgiving assemblies and donates Christmas trees to the school. Filling the positions of club officers are: President, Tom Zechman; Vice President, Milton Brown; and Secretary, Armond Roberts. Mr. Jan Pederson acts as club advisor.

Explorers

The Explorers Club at Nampa Senior High School is limited to twenty members. The new members pop and sell popcorn at all sports events at NHS. By contributing part of their earnings to the student body and by supporting the athletic events, the boys, during the past year, upheld the club's purpose "to better the school, both financially and spiritually." The remainder of the clubs earnings paid for a spring banquet, and several trips including one to Idaho City to gather Christmas trees.

The climax of the year will be the proposed five day outing to take place as soon as school closes.

The Explorer Club activities have been headed by John Covert, President; Eddy Doorn, Vice President; and Gene Dunn, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Roy Robertson is faculty advisor.

FTA

To learn about the opportunities in teaching, to cultivate the qualities essential for good teachers, to study the lives of great teachers, and to foster the development of student leadership are the goals of the Future Teachers of America. Membership is open to any student in grades ten to twelve who are interested in teaching and who have the necessary qualities of character, scholarship, and leadership.

Activities this year included an after-game dance, a banquet, an initiation, an installation of officers, visits to various classes on education at NNC. Each member got to attend the class of his or her choice for half a day anywhere in the Nampa Public School System. Officers this year were President, Janet Decker; Vice President, Rose Marie Wahlstrom; Secretary, Kathy Green; Treasurer, Judy Birket; Librarian, Larry Edgerton; and Historian, Judy Perkins. The advisor is Mrs. Edna Jarvis.

FBLA

The Nampa Chapter of FBLA is under the sponsorship of NEA. Future Business Leaders of America was organized four years ago. The club strives to develop business leadership and foster co-operation in the home and community.

The FBLA runs the school store in classroom Building No. 1 as a part of the business training of its members. This year the proceeds of an after-game dance sponsored by the club were donated to the publications. Publishing the school telephone directory was another service of the Future Business Leaders of America.

The Annual Spring Banquet highlighted the fun activities of the group. Officers of the club are President, Garldine Nelson; Vice President, Caroline Henderson; Secretary, Lois Willcuts; and Treasurer, Wilma Adkins.

FLS

To foster and promote the study of a foreign language and an interest in the country of that language, is the purpose of the Foreign Language Society. Every first and third Tuesday each month the group listened to speakers who had traveled in foreign countries.

Activities this year included an initiation, a banquet, and an after-game dance. This year's officers were President, Paula Flisher; Vice President, LaVonne Tiegs; Secretary, Carol Lee Fobes; Treasurer, Eugenie Newton; Sergeant-at-Arms, Alan Bevington; Executive Council: French, Janet Morris and Bonnie Tiegs; Latin, Sandy Bell and Marolane Yellen; Spanish, Judy Fuller and Sheila Moon. Advisor is Miss Evelyn Hagelin.

FNA

To acquaint girls, who are interested in the nursing profession, is the purpose of the Future Nurses Association. This organization was started last year and is part of a National program sponsored by the Medical Auxiliary. Activities for this year included an initiation and installation of officers. The members must work at least two hours every week in the hospital. They wear specially made aprons during their work. Officers this year were President, Ann Kellog; Vice President, Marilyn Pywell; Secretary, Shirley Jamison; and Point Keeper, Sharon Bosley. The advisor is Mrs. Helen Langworthy.

FHA

The purposes of FHA are: to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of homemaking, to promote international good will and to further interest in home economics. Outstanding activities of the chapter this year included a picnic and recognition service for the new members, a car wash and candy sale, Harvest Ball, and a senior banquet. The club made favors for the patients at the Mercy and Samaritan Hospitals on Valentines and St. Patrick's Day. For membership in the club a girl must have been enrolled in home economics at least one semester.

The girls can earn various degrees, which include the Junior Degree, Chapter Degree, and the State Degree. The chapter belongs to the District, State, and National organizations.

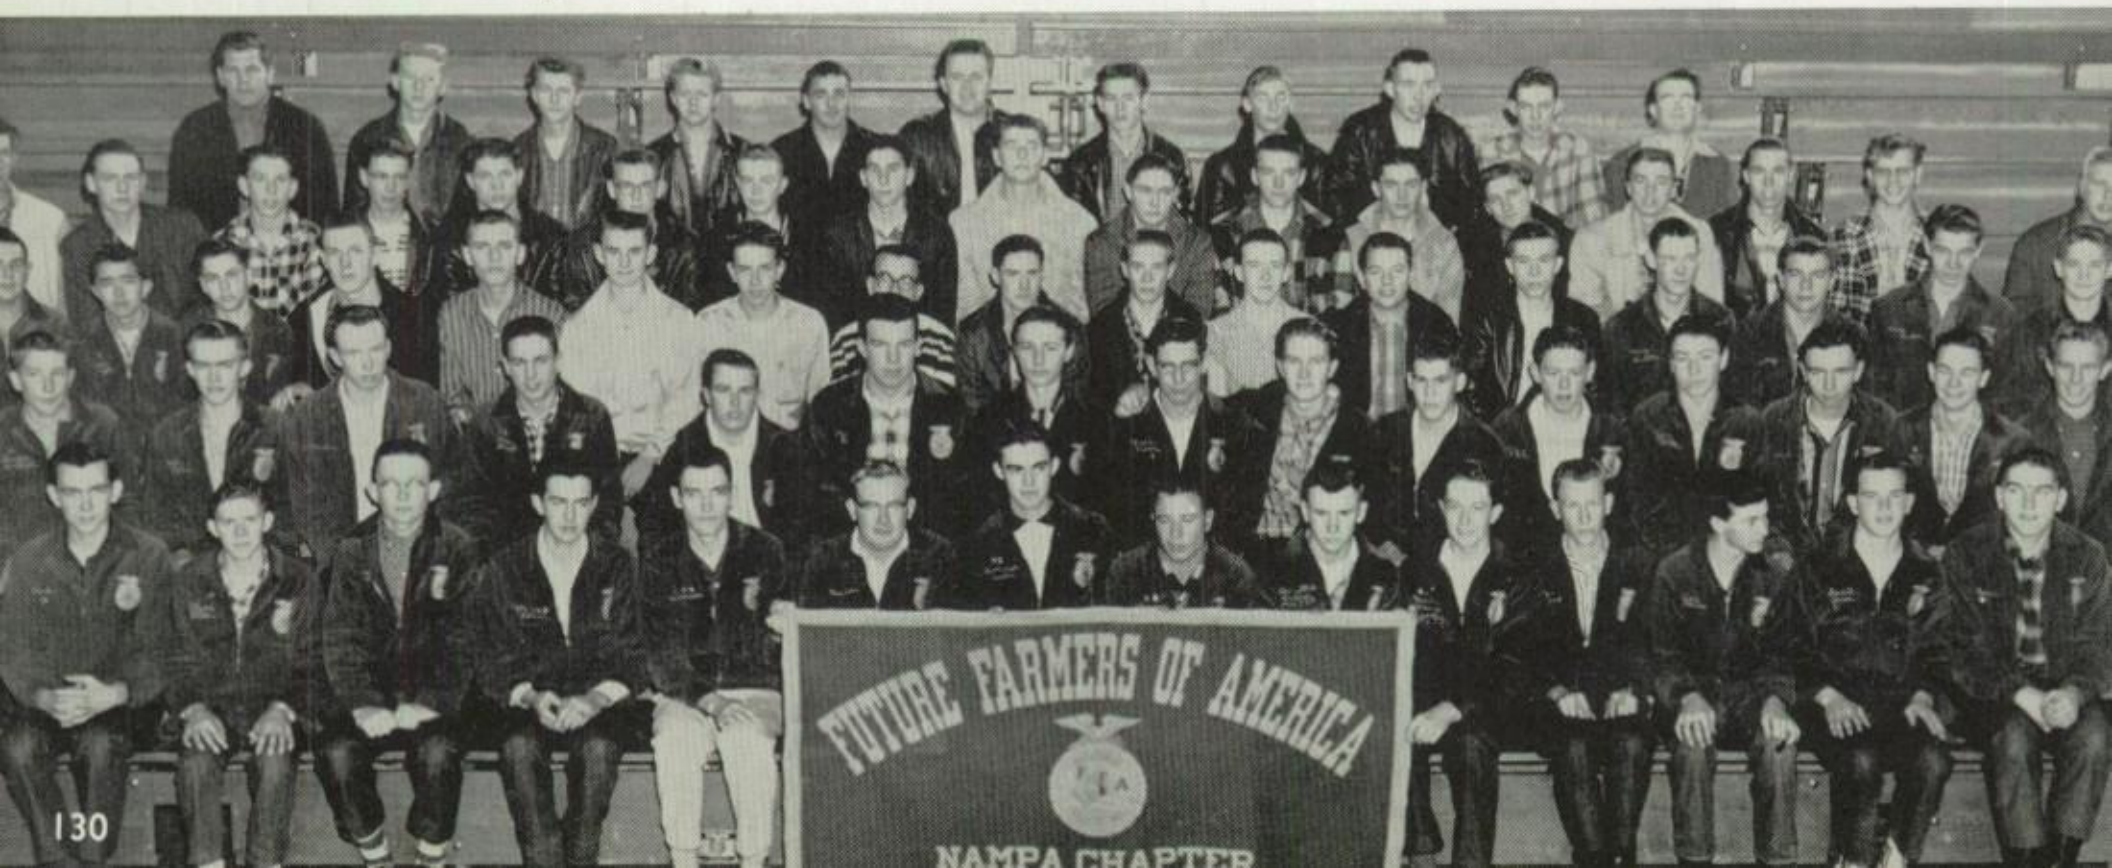
This year Peggy Roper was elected President and Vicki Luekenga was elected Secretary of the District III convention held at Emmett.

The officers this year are Carolyn Hurst, President; Roberta Givens, Vice President; Peggy Roper, Secretary; Judy Masingill, Treasurer; Vicki Luekenga, Historian; and Kay Masingill, Parliamentarian. Mrs. Mrytle Keck and Mrs. Ann Hunt are chapter advisors.

FFA

Nampa Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, founded in 1930, holds the distinction of being the fourth chapter to be chartered in the state of Idaho. FFA co-sponsors the annual Harvest Ball and holds an annual banquet. The club built the fireplace and planted trees on the high school campus.

Members of FFA strive to develop aggressive rural and agricultural leadership and to create interest in farming. Club officers are: Harold Lupton, President; Kenny Schmitt, Vice President; Bob Ferguson, Secretary; and Clyde Fillmore, Treasurer. Chapter advisor is Seth Forsgren.



GAA

The Girls Athletic Association is for sports minded girls in Nampa High. This club gives girls a chance to participate in games, learn sportsmanship, and develop physical and mental health.

On the evening of the second Tuesday of every month the members participate in a play night in the P.E. building. On February 14, the Nampa club was host to an invitational volleyball tournament here in Nampa. Money earned by the club throughout the year is donated to some worthy cause on campus. Officers of GAA were: President, Linda Jacobsen; Vice President, Marolane Yellen; and Secretary, LaVonne Tiegs. Club advisor is Miss Barbara Kononen.

Thespians

The advancement of standards of excellence in dramatic arts is one of the high goals which Thespians strive to attain. This club is open to all students interested in drama and play production and who are enrolled in those classes.

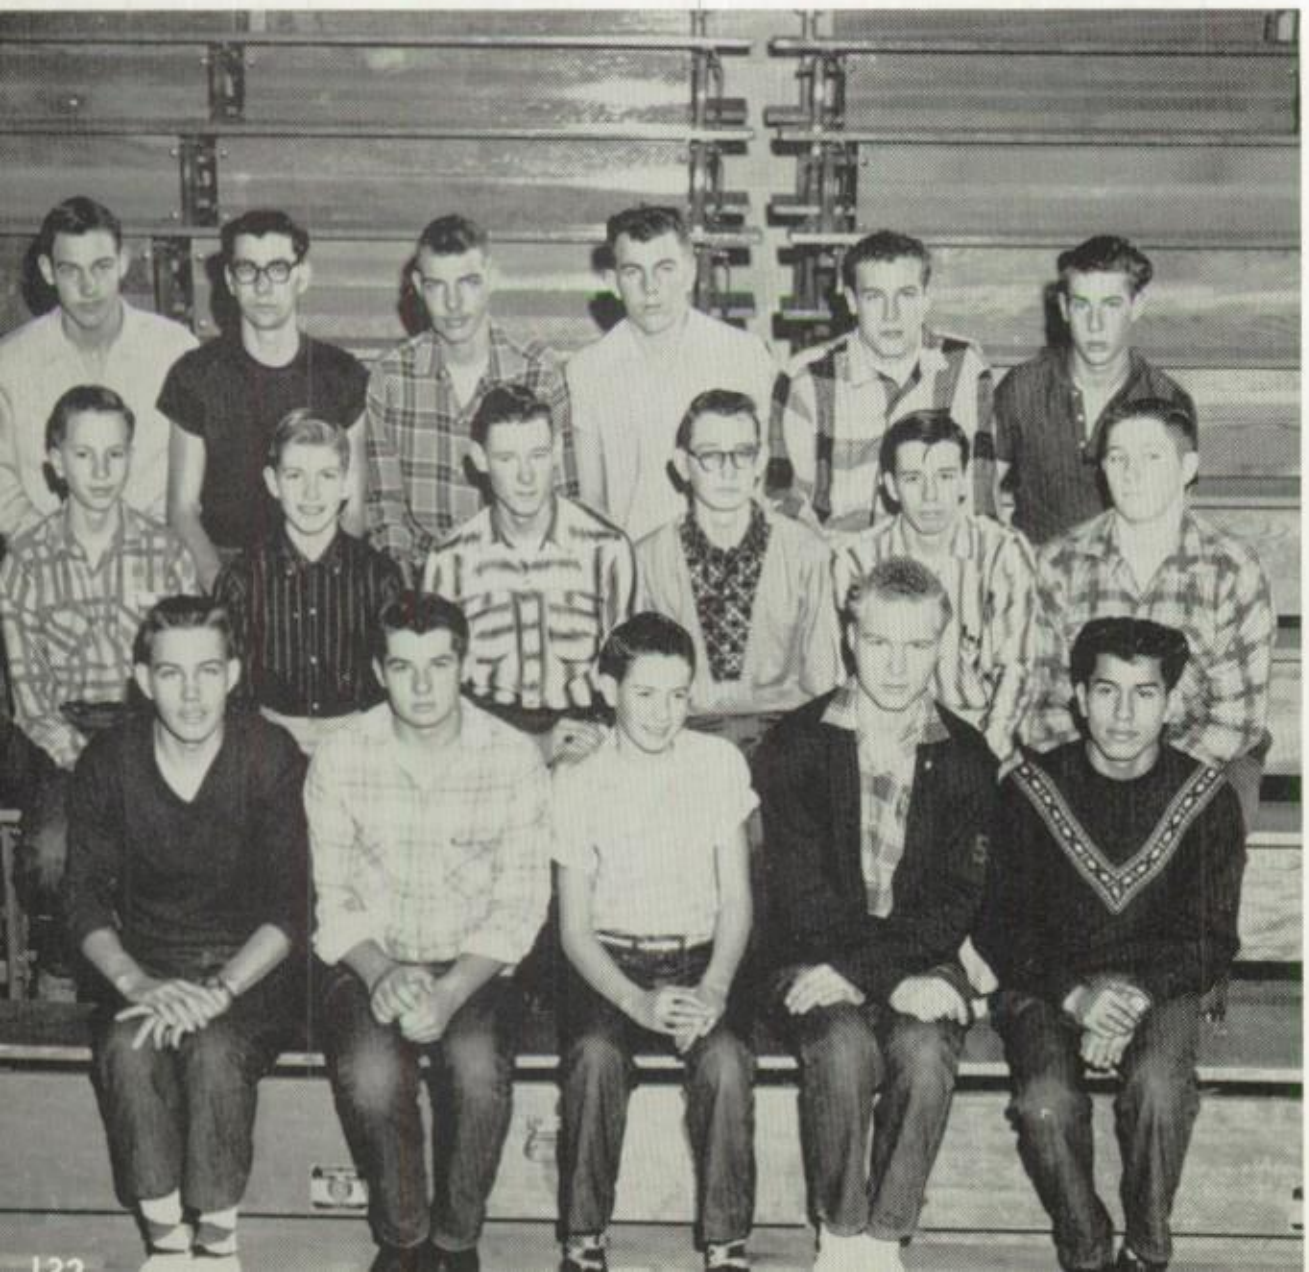
Members of the club are chosen through their participation in the Dramatic Arts.

During the course of the year Thespians sponsor one or two full length plays and the annual Thespian Variety Show. The play this year was "A Man Called Peter" presented in the Spring; the theme of the Variety show was Blue Hawaii.

Thespians are encouraged to enroll in the play production class and many of the club's activities are carried out in this class. Club officers are President, Don Johnson; Vice President, Eleanor Cooke; Treasurer, Judy Masingill; and Historian, Florence Brandt. Faculty advisor is Mrs. Elva Reid.

Librarians

Decorating the bulletin boards, serving students with a smile, and arranging the display in the lobby show case, are only a few of the duties of Nampa High's Librarians. This active group of girls is also responsible for library services such as checking out books, registering fines, and repairing damaged books. Joanna Maier serves the club as president this year. The annual librarian banquet was held February 16, at the Round-Up-Room of the Harmony Cafe. Miss Flossie Stark, head librarian, was the honored guest at the banquet.



Movie Operators

The Annual banquet in February highlights the year's activities of the Audio-Visual-Aids Organization.

Members of the Audio-Visual-Aids class, under the direction of Miss Flossie Stark, learn to operate movie projects, tape recorders and film strip projectors. One credit is given for the services performed during the year.

Hobby Club

The hobby group, this year, is perhaps one of the most unusual organizations in senior high. It has a membership of seventy-two with thirty-five different hobbies recorded. The main purpose of the group is to have each member help other members in his particular hobby every time the opportunity arises.

The hobby club slogan is, "I'll help you and you help me" and many have given as well as received help this year. The club has many enthusiastic hobbiests. This group has grown out of the drawing classes and Mr. McNichols is the sponsor.

Fire Marshals

This group of students, the fire marshals, is in charge of all the fire drills at Nampa High, and the marshals see to it that the school has at least one required fire drill a month.

One of the jobs of the Student Body Vice President of Nampa High is presiding as President of the Student Fire Marshals. Buzz McMillan has filled this office for the past year. Secretary of the fire marshals, Georgia Turritin, was elected by the rest of the members, Paul Kaye, Caryn Snyder, Bill Hart, and Bob Rogers.

Each year a contest is held among the Nampa schools in fire drill procedure. A prize is given for the winning school.

IAC

To promote Industrial art in Nampa High the Industrial Arts Club was first organized in 1957. Leading the group this year are: Gene Davenport, President; Robert Smith, Vice President; Arnold Wallace, Secretary; and Floyd Kuhn, Treasurer. Assisting these officers is the club advisor, Mr. Rupert.

The final Thursday of every month meetings are held at which members can be found working on their projects in the shop building. Industrial Arts Club is open to all students interested in the various phases of wood plastics, and metal working.

Machinists

Have you seen the reserved parking signs here at Nampa High? Well, here is the club responsible for them. In addition to these signs, this year the machinists club made plaques for the Kiwanis Club and a bronze Nampa High School sign for the campus. Working with these various projects, the machinists learned more about how a machinist works with special tools.

Only boys in machine shop can belong to this club. The leaders this year are: President, Larry Kudebeh; Vice President, Verle Wolfe; and Secretary, Bill Mansur. The club advisor is Mr. Quinley.

Future Engineers

To promote added interest for the application of science and mathematics and to help students in the matters of guidance and choosing of their life's work is the purpose of the Future Engineers Club of Nampa High.

This club was organized in the fall of 1956 on a local basis. It is not affiliated on either the state or national level. Any junior or senior enrolled in science or mathematics is eligible for membership.

At each regular meeting a speaker is brought in, a field trip is taken, or a film is shown. One out of town trip is planned each year. The professional advisor is Mr. Sumner Johnson, head of the engineering department of the city, and faculty advisor is Mr. Lubiens. Officers are: President, Robert Johns; Vice President, Corder Campbell; and Secretary-Treasurer, Bruce Keithly.

Science Club

With big plans for the future, the Science Club of NHS is fast becoming one of the most active clubs on Campus. Field trips, experiments, and special projects highlight the activities of Science Club.

Dr. Ford of NNC was one of the special speakers this year.

Goals of the club are to increase skill and understanding of students in the fields of science.

Officers of Science Club are President, Bob Henry; Vice President, Robin Russel; and Secretary-Treasurer, Gene Pilcher. Mr. Brandt serves as advisor for this club.

DECA

The Distributive Education Clubs of America have a local chapter at Nampa High which was organized in 1957. To be a member of this club one must be a member of the distributive education class, have some aspect of business as his career objective, and have a job in a retail business.

Deca students spend only a part of the day in school. The remainder is spent on-the-job. The main duty of the DECA students is to run the Kennel. All proceeds from Kennel sales go into the student body fund.

The main social activities are in the fall: the installation of officers, to which the employers and parents are invited; a Christmas party after working hours; and an employer-employee banquet which is the highlight of the year.

The officers of this year's Deca are President, A. J. Kellogg; Vice President, Fred Yates; Secretary-Treasurer, Carol Rau; Photographer, Donna Rutherford; and Historian, Earlden Grant. Club advisor is Elmer Bittleston.

Key Club

Under the able direction of Mr. Lyle Lubiens the Key Club develops citizenship and service to the school and community. The regular meetings were highlighted by visits from outstanding members of the community. Also the members were regularly invited to attend Kiwanis meetings. Among the projects carried out were mounting the black movie curtains, care of the trophies, and designing the school flag. The officers this year were President, Corder Campbell; Vice President, Gene Pilcher; Secretary, Robert Johns; and Treasurer, Charles Tyler.

Girls' and Boys' State

At Boise last January 15, the American Legion's Girls' and Boys' State committee gave selected Idaho students a chance to promote leadership and government organizations. Students who went to the convention were chosen because of their high scholastic and personal achievements.

Gem Boys' State was held on the Boise Junior College campus, and Syringa Girls' State was held in Caldwell at the College of Idaho. Both sessions were held the full week of June 8 to 14.

Men students who attended for Nampa were Mel Hochhalter, Corder Campbell, Jim Metcalf, John Bishop, Gene Pilcher, Bob Johns, Elias Alvarado, Carl Hamilton, and Ron Hoppins.

Attending Girls' State were Christine Lynch, Deanna Duffy, Ann Kellogg, and Mary Beth Horton.

Associated Men and Women Students

One of the more popular and practical student organizations which has swept the country is the formation of Associated Men's and Women's Student Bodies. The new concept, coming down from college level, is the formation of leagues which would serve as pep clubs in which everyone could enjoy membership. The federation would then be a society of students who would support the school in such activities as football, basketball, drama, and concerts.

Here in Nampa this year, the association elected Representatives who sat in student council as an advisory, or committee, status. Rather than take time in the student council on such matters as game conduct or student honesty, the council turned these matters over to the association leaders.

Membership in this association was placed on an automatic membership basis. The charter members under the guidance of Mr. Steck and Mrs. Cruse were sure that the association did not detract from standing clubs or the governing functions of the student council.

The association's objectives are twofold: 1. To sponsor school sportsmanship and to encourage students to attend such school activities as basketball, football, plays, and concerts. 2. Each student should place himself on an honor code. The honor code lets each student guide his own actions. If he should infringe on others it is the duty of those around him or her to remind them of their school obligation.

Meetings are arranged on the basis of need. To head the planning over these meetings in both men's and women's leagues were officers chosen by their class. Presidents from each class were to act as the organization leaders when the entire men's or women's league meet. Heading the women's league are: President, Deanna Duffy; Senior Representatives, Linda Grant and Melissa Egbert; Vice President, Donna Fletcher; Junior Representatives, Jerelyn Burlingame and Marolane Yellen; Secretary, Kay Rupert; Sophomore Representatives, Jean Terry and Lynn Pate. The leaders of the men's league are: President, Bill Mansur; Senior Representatives, Steve Treasurer and Dennis Aldredge; Vice President, Dale Russell; Junior Representatives, Dale Nordstrom and Fred Bergeman; and Secretary, Jim Furushiro; Sophomore Representatives, Bill Shaw and John Hayes.

Bill Shaw and Jean Terry are pictured below as Green Years Attendants. Bill and Jean are both officers of the Associated Men and Women Students.

Green Years Attendants

Many sophomores, their dates and special guests danced to the music of Skeets Peebles and his orchestra at the annual Green Years Dance held April 11, at the gymnasium. John Hayes and Connie Luekenga were crowned Green Years King and Queen. Attendants crowned were Jean Terry, Bill Shaw, Kathie Hostetler, and Bruce Garrison.

Faculty Queen

The Sage staff honors Mrs. Maxine Hughes, senior class advisor, U.S. History and Government teacher, as Faculty Queen of 1959. Congratulations, Mrs. Hughes, and best wishes.

Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow

Nampa High's Betty Crocker, Homemaker of Tomorrow for 1959, is Miss Susan Swenson. She received the highest score in a written examination testing the home-making knowledge and aptitude of all interested Nampa High Senior girls. Susan's examination paper makes her eligible for the "All American Homemaker of Tomorrow" title.

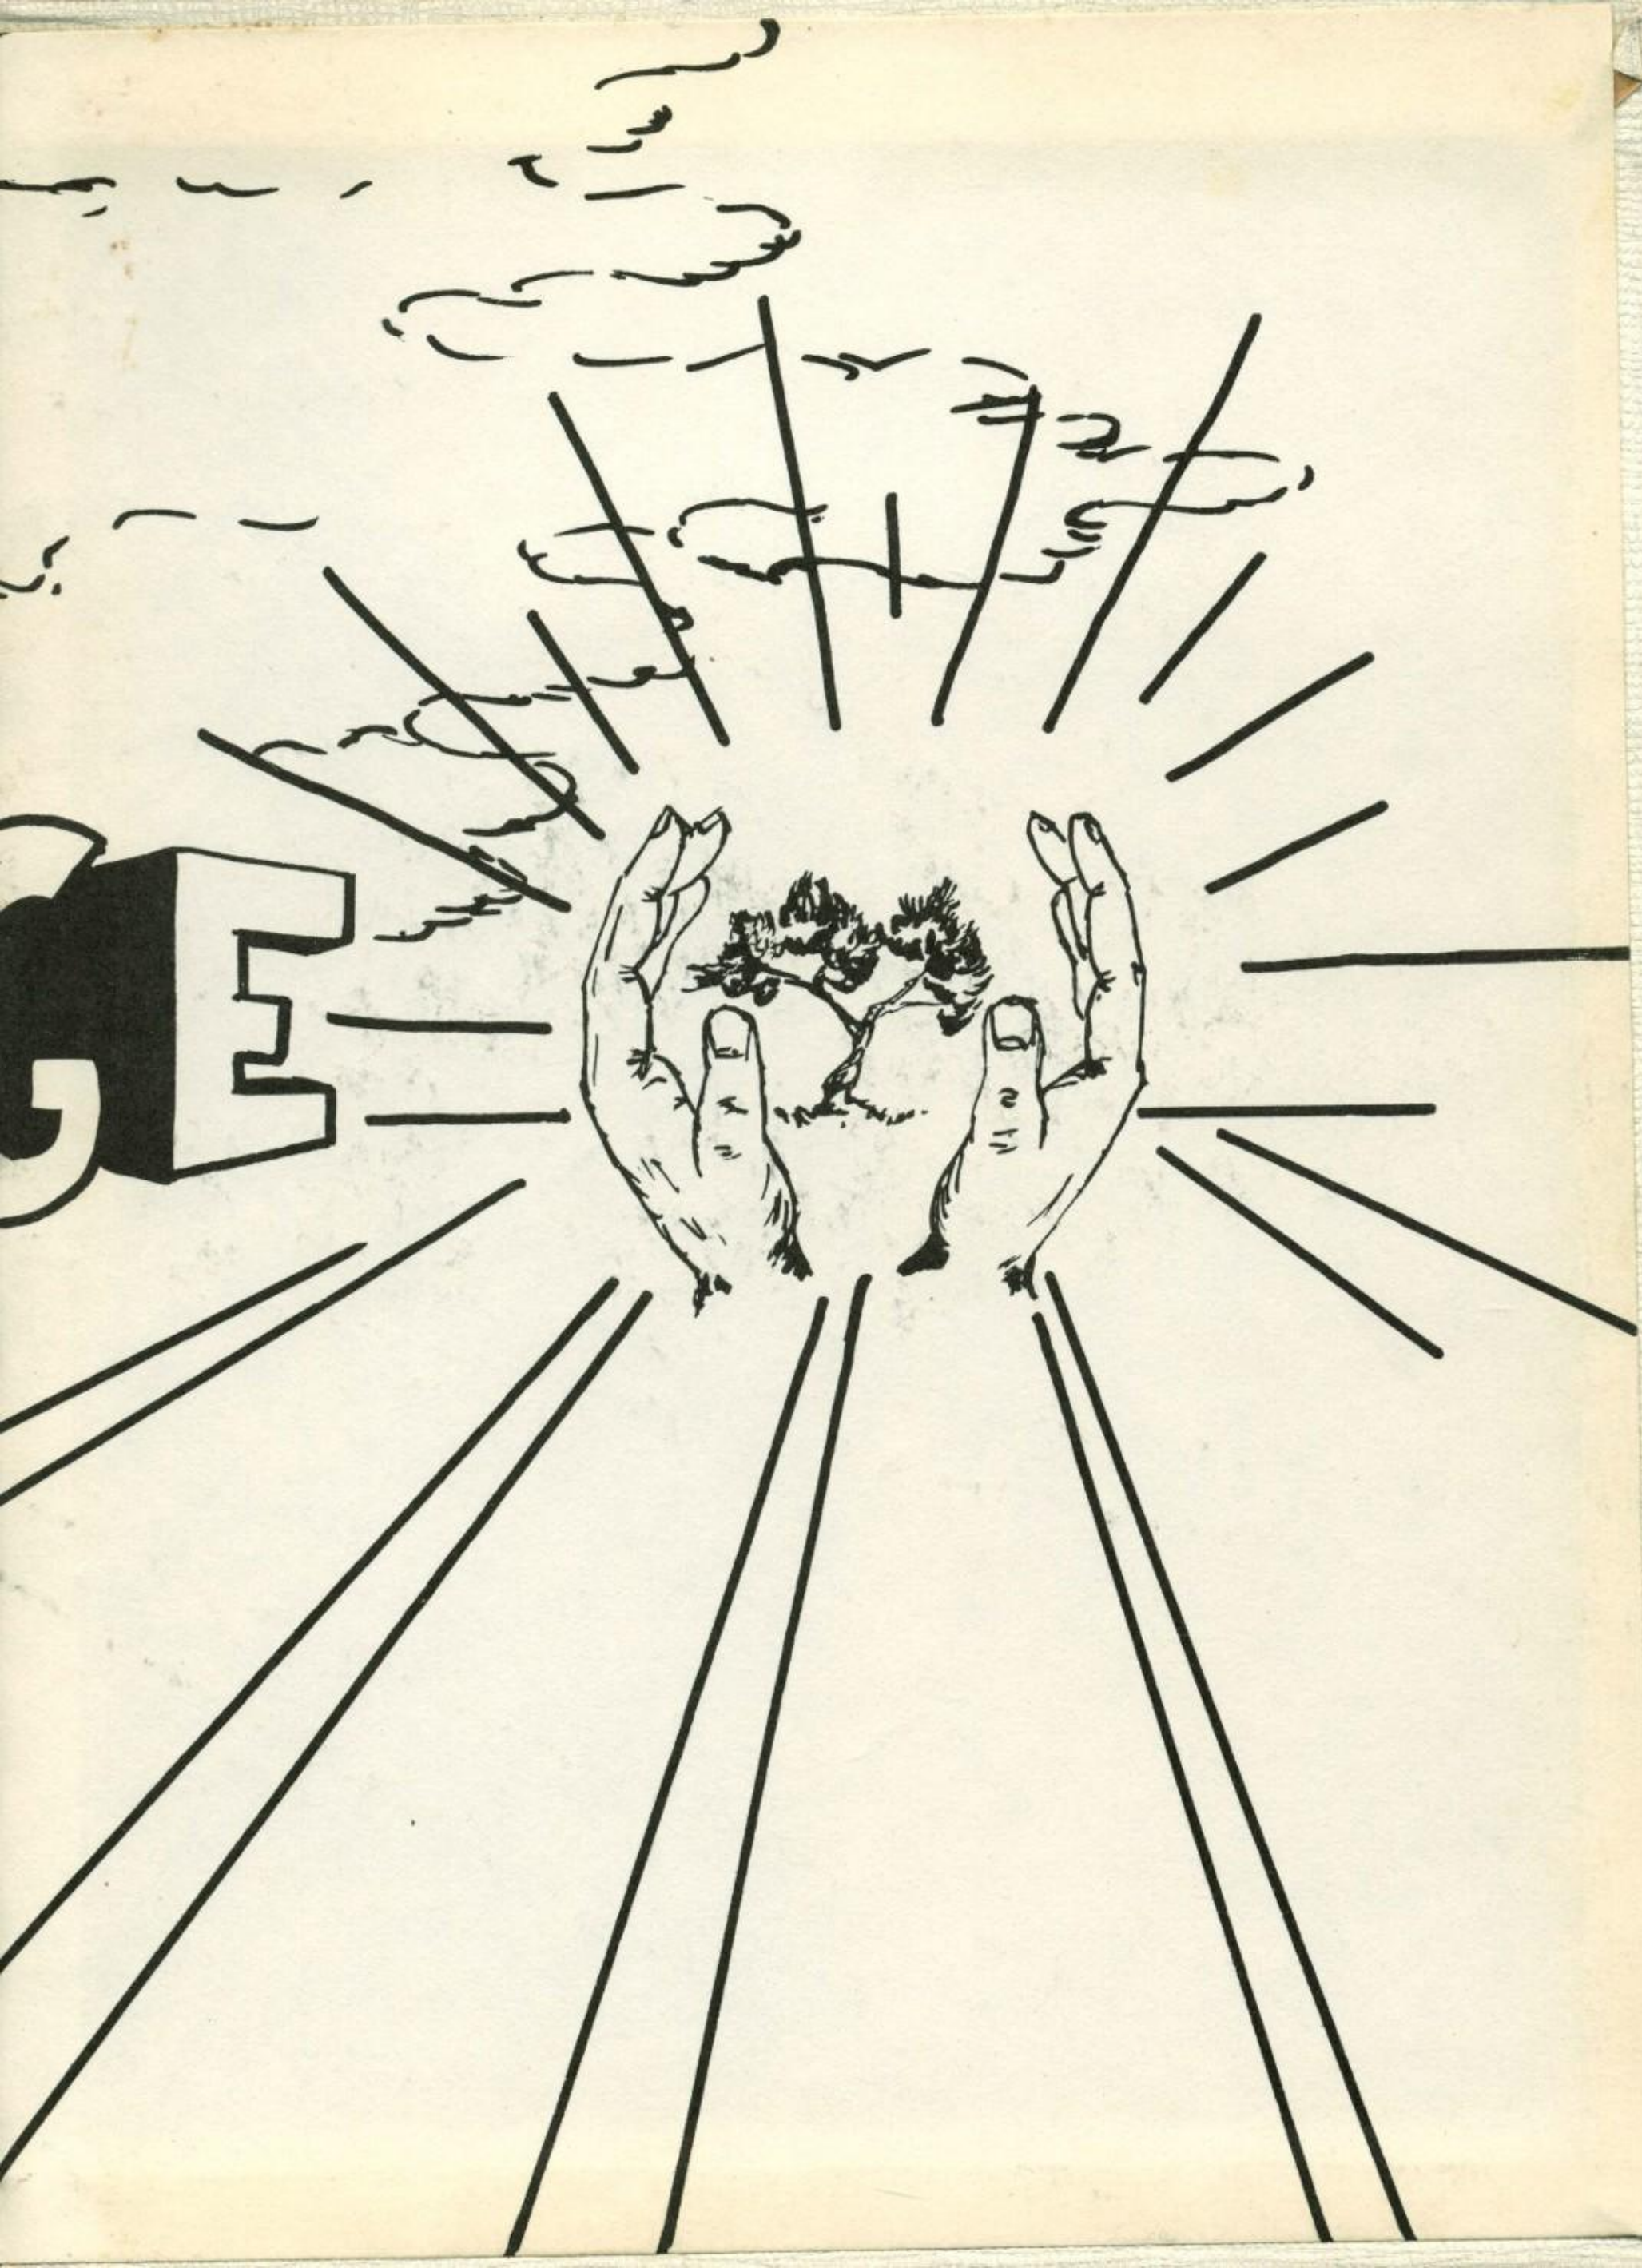
Dear Karen-

Looks like I've got lots of room to write in, but I won't fill much. I can't hardly belive we're just about through with high school. We've really had some fun times together. There are so many things to remember it is impossible to put them down on paper. Remember Spizzette & blowing the whistle at the wrong time, our trip to Moscow when we had such a blast and also sneaking out of 3rd period... like when you broke your strap. among many other wonderful experiences. I also miss mentioning Chemistry class - actually you were the dumb one - I did all the work. Anyway, it sure has been great having you as one of my best friends, and crying on your shoulder so much - you must have a pretty sloppy shoulder by now. Well, Karen I hope to see you lots of in the future - especially this summer and next year at college. I want to wish you and Darryll lots of luck. You both deserve it.

A friend always,


Dave
